Kid Stuff

Q. I saw Victor Buono on the Joey Bishop Show, and he gave a lecture on the unborn child. I am taking dramatic interpretation next year and would like to get a copy of the presentation. G. R., Norwalk.

A. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Victor Buono's agent, and you will receive a copy of the poem on the unborn child as soon as it has been copyrighted, says a representative of Joey Bishop Productions. Send your request to Merritt Blake, Hugh French Agency, 9348 Santa Monica Blvd., Beverly Hills 90210. A character actor, Victor Buono was nominated for an Academy Award for his performance in "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane." He has also been a guest star on such television series as "Perry Mason" and "I Spy."

The Brothers Kennedy

Q. Shortly after Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's death, a picture appeared in the paper. It was a photo of his head with one of his brother, President John F. Kennedy, superimposed on the background. I would like to have a copy of this picture. E. N., Lakewood.

A. That photograph, together with one showing Robert F. Kennedy with the Rev. Martin Luther King in Washington in June 1963, will be sent to you. The pictures appeared in the June 9 edition of The Press-Telegram in which the political career of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was outlined. That career included being a Massachusetts lawyer; an attorney in the criminal division of the U.S. Department of Justice; an assistant counsel for the Hoover Committee; a chief counsel for the U.S. Senate select committee on improper activities in labor and management; the attorney general of the United States; a U.S. senator, and finally a presidential candidate.

Net Work

Q. My 5-month-old son has a bad reaction to insect bites, and I can't find any mosquito netting to put over his crib. Can you help? W. R., Long Beach.

A. The fine netting you need can be purchased from West Coast Netting, 14929 Clark Ave., Industry, 336-3315. It is 45 inches wide and costs 60 cents a yard, says Max Sturgeon, company general manager.

Inquisitive

Q. I have received a number of questionnaires from the Home Testing Institute, Manhasset, Long Island, New York. Although most forms inquire about certain products, some very personal questions are included in others. I would like to know of the authenticity of this firm and if everything they receive is kept in confidence. R. I. R., Lakewood.

A. The Home Testing Institute-TV-Q, a subsidiary of Computer Applications Inc., 555 Madison Avenue, N.Y., has been engaged in marketing research for 15 years, says John Miller, vice president. It maintains a consumer mailing panel of 90,000 homemakers from whom it obtains information on consumer opinions of products being advertised and proposed products for the future. "We never give the name of a person to a product company or anyone else because we don't want anyone to get hold of our mailing list," Miller said. Computer Applications Inc. is listed on the American Stock Exchange and is a member of the Better Business Bureau and the American Marketing Association, Miller said.

SOUND OFF!

I must express my sincere regret at the Long Beach City Council public relations committee's disapproval of our proposal to erect, at private expense, a memorial in Lincoln Park to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. Mr. Crow advised me of my need for education. The only education I have received from the council is that the expression "you can't buck City Hall" is true. Mr. Deats noted that "Robert Kennedy contributed nothing to our community," so a memorial to his visit to the park the day before his assassination would be unsuitable. I believe he contributed as a holder of national public office serving all Americans. The committee also noted that nine of 12 letters received on our proposal opposed it and they simply were following the majority opinion. Do nine votes out of 400,000 constitute a majority? I wonder if the councilmen received any expressions of opposition to their voting themselves free rides on the Queen Mary's last voyage. I believe there was considerable opposition at the time. Mrs. J.F.C., Long Beach.

REACTION

I don't think the Second Amendment to the Constitution has been brought sufficiently to people's attention. It reads: "A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed." And on the subject, why not place the need of a new gun law on the November ballot and let the people decide if they want one? G. S., Long Beach.

I was for the gun control laws until W. L. S. reminded me of the Second Amendment in his recent Sound Off. I thank W. L. S. In the words of Benjamin Franklin, "They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety."

Burden of War to Shift

Thieu Tells LBJ
S. Viet Ready for More Telling Role

HONOLULU (UPI) — South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu told President Johnson Friday his nation was ready to shoulder a greater burden of the Vietnam war.

Thieu made the remarks in a prepared statement at the closed session meeting being held at the hilltop Pacific Command Headquarters overlooking Pearl Harbor. It came as U.S. officials disclosed the scheduled two-day summit meeting had been shortened.

JOHNSON and Thieu were expected to wind up their sessions with a breakfast meeting today. Earlier schedules had them meeting through a lunch.

"We realize that we, Vietnamese, are mostly affected by this war, which is waged on our soil, against our own freedom," Thieu said.

"Therefore, we feel that we are duty-bound to shoulder each day an increasing share of this struggle."

Thieu and Johnson met privately in the office of Pacific Commander Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp for an hour before the two delegations got together around a rectangular table in the command center from which much of the war in Vietnam is directed.

A White House spokesman said Thieu presented a summary of the military situation and developments on the governmental front since the two presidents last met in December, 1967.

THIEU and Johnson were expected to discuss in their private conversation the controversial question of negotiating with the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong.

There was no mention made of this in reports of

Judge Eases Restrictions Surrounding Sirhan Case

By GEORGE LAINE
Staff Writer

Superior Court Judge Richard Schauer Friday modified the highly controversial court order which has restricted information about the June 5 assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The jurist delayed a plea by Sirhan B. Sirhan — charged with the murder of Kennedy — until Aug. 2 to allow doctors to complete psychiatric tests on the Jordanian immigrant.

But, he moved quickly to revise the restrictions imposed by Superior Court Judge Arthur Alarcon, which critics charged, violated the public's constitutional right to information.

District Attorney Evelle J. Younger — accompanied by his chief deputy, Lynn Compton — offered a motion to rescind or modify the June 7 order by Judge Arthur Alarcon which clamped a lid of secrecy on the case.

Judge Schauer agreed to hear all of Younger's arguments for rescinding the order when Sirhan returns to court Aug. 2. In the intervening period, he said, lawyers and some court officials will be exempt from the earlier order.

Younger described the Alarcon order as "unduly restrictive" and said it would inhibit the right of the public to have knowledge of the case.

Judge Schauer amended the earlier order: — On statements as to the identity of probable witnesses, probable testimony or effect of testimony, making it read only "statement for public dissemination."

— On out of court statements on evidence, silencing any comment on "the nature, source or effect" of any evidence, which now bans only judgments on the "weight, value or effect of any purported evidence."

Judge Schauer also eased Alarcon's prohibition on giving of information by witnesses, restricting only statements made for public dissemination.

SIRHAN ENTERED the high-security courtroom — on the 13th floor of the Hall of Justice — a few minutes after 9 a.m. By that time, however, the 67 newsmen and 21 members of the

Strike Vote at Douglas Set Sunday

By HERB SHANNON
Aerospace Editor

Strike votes affecting some 55,000 McDonnell Douglas workers nationwide will be held Sunday by two huge aerospace unions.

United Auto Workers Local 148, representing 30,000 hourly employees at Douglas Aircraft Division in Long Beach and Lomita, will meet at 2 p.m. in Veterans Memorial Stadium.

At the same time, Districts 1578 and 720 of the International Association of Machinists, with 18,000 members at McDonnell Douglas plants in Torrance, Huntington Beach and Santa Monica, will convene in Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

BALLOTING also will take place at other McDonnell Douglas facilities where the unions have representation, including Tulsa, Okla.; Whittier, Calif.; Little Rock, Ark.; Charlotte, N.C., and Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Members of Long Beach Local 148, comprising the major share of McDonnell Douglas unionists, will be given a detailed report on negotiation efforts to date, according to UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock.

He said the company has made no contract offer so far "even though management knows each day without a fair and reasonable offer" makes settlement more difficult.

THE McDonnell Douglas employees have been working under the terms of a previous three-year agreement which expired last Monday. Negotiations on a new contract started June 4.

If the union members vote to authorize a strike, it could not begin until seven days after notification to the company, as provided in the previous agreement. This would make July 29 the earliest date for a walk-out.

NO SURPRISE Gun Registration Killed in House

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — The House Friday killed proposals for federal registration of guns.

At the same time, it voted to require mandatory prison terms for those convicted of committing federal felonies — but not state felonies — while using a gun.

Defeat of gun registration came as no surprise. While strongly-backed by the Administration, floor leaders actively opposed it in order to obtain speedy congressional action on a bill to ban mail order sales of rifles, shotguns and ammunition. A similar restriction on hand guns was enacted last month.

Final action on the bill was put off until Monday. Still pending are many of the more than 100 amendments that have been offered, both to strengthen and weaken the bill.

Congressional leaders predict that the bill will emerge from the House virtually intact. It then would go to the Senate for almost certain passage.

Supporters of strong gun legislation are expected to seek to attach gun registration to the bill in the Senate. However, they face almost certain defeat.

Gun registration went down to defeat in the house on two decisive votes. Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., proposed federal registration of hand guns only. This was defeated, 168 to 89.

Rep. Jonathan Bingham, D-N.Y., proposed registration of rifles and shotguns, as well as hand guns. This too, was defeated, 172 to 68.

New USSR Bid to Meet With Czechs

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union Friday suggested compromise sites for a meeting to resolve growing differences with the liberal Czech regime of Alexander Dubcek.

The Soviet Communist Party offered the two Ukrainian cities of Kiev or Lvov for a meeting between Dubcek and Leonid Brezhnev.

Associated Press special correspondent William L. Ryan analyzes how Russia is putting pressure on Czechoslovakia. Page A-4.

It would be a minor concession for Dubcek, who has snubbed previous Soviet bids to meet, to agree to a meeting in Lvov, only 80 miles from the Czech border. Such a meeting might take place as early as Monday or Tuesday, authoritative sources said.

Earlier, the Czechoslovakian Communist Party's central committee gave "unanimous" approval to the liberal policies of Party Leader Dubcek.

Delegates for Ronnie Increasing

Special to The Independent Press-Telegram

AMARILLO, Tex. — Gov. Ronald Reagan will have a great many more delegate votes available to him at the Republican nominating convention in Miami Beach next month than California's 86, it became apparent here Thursday.

At the same time the last pretense of Reagan's "non-candidacy" posture were all but swept away when F. Clifford White, the political expert hired by the governor's wealthy supporters to advise the California delegation, told Republican delegates from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico meeting in this West Texas city that Reagan was the man best qualified to be America's president.

"HE HAS courage, common sense and charisma," White was quoted as saying. "The American people want leadership in which they have confidence and which they can follow."

He said Reagan was capable of providing that leadership.

Delegate counters from all three states were busy. A Texas delegate said that of his state's 56 delegates, a majority now favored Reagan, and among those now favoring Richard M. Nixon, Reagan was a strong second choice.

The governor was also believed to have the support of a majority of Oklahoma's 22 delegates. Delegates from Nevada also were busy.

Hits LBJ 'Military Failures'

By BOB SCHMIDT
From Our State Bureau

AMARILLO, Tex. — Gov. Ronald Reagan, fishing for delegates and trying at the same time to solidify Southern Republicans behind the party next November, dangled as bait Thursday night in this strong conservative Panhandle bastion the promise of an increased emphasis on military might should he be elected president.

And, he said, although Lyndon Johnson had let the opportunity slip by, a new president could and should give North Korea a 24-hour ultimatum to return the captured Navy vessel Pueblo and her crew or "we'll do what has to be done to get her."

He declined at a press conference, prior to delivering a speech at a fund-raising dinner for Texas Rep. Bob Price, to say what means he would use.

"IT WOULDN'T hurt" to have them wondering just what our tactics will be," he said.

The governor restated his position that he is not a declared candidate, but made it plain that he would be available if convention delegates wanted to make him more than simply California's favorite-son candidate.

"My name will be placed in nomination," he said, "and then we'll just wait and see what happens."

In his prepared speech, he delivered perhaps his most scathing attack yet on the nation's Democratic leadership, charging that its policies had left the country unprepared to defend itself if it had to.

THE governor's speech here emphasized what he claimed were the military failures of President Johnson's administration.

Goldberg to Defend Coffin in Anti-Draft Case

Combined News Services

Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., Yale University chaplain convicted last month of conspiring to counsel youths to defy the draft, said Friday Arthur J. Goldberg, the former Supreme Court justice and ambassador, has agreed to be his appeals attorney.

Coffin was convicted along with famed pediatrician Dr. Benjamin Spock and two others in Boston federal court.

Goldberg stepped down from his U.N. post last April.

Coffin made the announcement at a news conference in New York and said having Goldberg as an attorney "should enrich the blood of the peace movement and give the case the dignity I think it deserves."

While ambassador, Goldberg publicly supported the Vietnam policies of the Johnson Administration. But he resigned amid reports that he differed with Johnson over the course of the war.

Coffin made his announcement following a one-hour meeting with Goldberg. However Goldberg did not appear at the news conference. Coffin was sentenced to two years in jail and a $5,000 fine. He said his appeal, which would go first to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the first circuit, in Boston, and could ultimately go to the Supreme Court, would begin in December.

ASYLUM

A man identifying himself as Bolivian Interior Minister Antonio Arguedas showed up at the Chilean-Bolivian frontier Friday night and asked for political asylum.

Earlier Friday, Arguedas was identified in La Paz as the man who made Cuban revolutionary Ernesto (Che) Guevara's diary of his Bolivian campaign available to the Communist Cuban regime of Fidel Castro.

RAY ANXIOUS FOR TRIAL, SAYS LAWYER

James Earl Ray waited Friday in the relative luxury of four heavily guarded jail cells, all air-conditioned, in Memphis, Tenn., for his trial on charges of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

His lawyer, denied a seat on the military jet which brought Ray from London before dawn, said in New York that Ray "is anxious to come to trial and clear the matter up." The attorney, Arthur Hanes of Birmingham, Ala., arrived at Kennedy Airport by commercial airliner.

Hanes will come to Memphis soon to confer with state prosecutors, but he said in New York he would not seek to have the trial moved from Memphis.

EXCITING

An 18-year-old Fresno girl planned to hike 28 miles across Death Valley, beginning today. "It has something to do with testing clothing and other equipment that could be used if man ever landed on the moon," explained Kathie Pieper about the trek.

She said the experiment is a project of the California Institute of Technology in cooperation with the Jet Propulsion Laboratory of Pasadena. "I don't have all the details," she admitted, "but it sounds exciting."

Miss Pieper, daughter of a North Hollywood gym owner, won the Miss AAU California Beauty Contest in Los Angeles last March. At the age of 9 she finished third in the women's division of the Pikes Peak marathon race — and her mother holds the women's record in the 26-mile marathon event.

Fortas Lectures Senators on Final Day of Hearings

WASHINGTON — Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas ended his encounter with opponents of his appointment as chief justice Friday after sternly telling them the court does not free criminals on "technicalities." By the time he quit the witness chair to await the Senate's vote on confirmation — which may not come until Labor Day — Fortas had won some friendly words from Sen. Hugh Scott, a previously silent Republican and an indication of support from a powerful southern senator, John L. McClellan, D-Ark. Fortas lectured the Senate Judiciary Committee on what he said was the error of calling constitutional principles mere "technicalities." This was in reference to the declaration Thursday by Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., arch opponent of his confirmation, that "a man . . . confessed a crime and the court turned him loose on a technicality." "Perhaps you will indulge me when I hear a blanket reference to constitutional principles as technicalities," Fortas said. "The use of 'technicality' in those circumstances perhaps creates a danger in the minds of the American people who support the Constitution just as you and I . . . and that's all I have to say."

Combined News Services

SAIGON, Saturday — A U.S. Army landing craft with 10 men aboard today was overdue on a 100-mile journey through the Mekong Delta and U.S. officials feared it had been sunk or strayed into Cambodian waters and captured. The boat, Army Landing Craft No. 1577, was more than 60 hours overdue on a trip from the U.S. 9th Infantry base at Dong Tam To Can Tho, where it was headed for repairs. If the boat had been captured in Cambodian waters, it would be the second American vessel seized by neutral Cambodia this week. Cambodia Friday reported the capture on Wednesday of a U.S. Navy vessel with 11 Americans and one South Vietnamese after it intruded into Cambodian water. Prince Norodom Sihanouk said the U.S. should pay a ransom of "a tractor or a bulldozer for each American" crewman. (In Washington, the State Department said the U.S. had apologized for the intrusion of the vessel. It blamed the incident on a "navigational error.")

Elsewhere, South Vietnamese troops sweeping through the muddy Mekong Delta killed six Viet Cong prison guards Friday and freed 34 emaciated men and women from a crude stockade. The prisoners included 28 civilians, four militiamen, a hamlet chief and an assistant hamlet chief. They were given food and medical treatment, then questioned about guerrilla movements in the area, some 110 miles southwest of Saigon. The South Vietnamese infantrymen, who freed the captives after a brisk fight, reported seizing nine Viet Cong suspects, more than 250 mortar and antitank rocket rounds, 10 rifles and a quantity of ammunition. Three government troops were reported wounded. No other significant actions were reported by the Allied commands as the month-long lull in ground action continued. Saigon, observing "National Shame Day," today was exceptionally quiet Friday night. The day is the 14th anniversary of the partition of Vietnam under the Geneva convention.

World Churches Urge U.S. Bombing Halt

UPPSALA, Sweden — The fourth assembly of the World Council of Churches headed toward adjournment Friday night by passing a resolution calling on the U.S. to stop bombing North Vietnam "immediately and unconditionally." The declaration said the halt was needed to pave the way for peace. It urged both sides to observe a ceasefire, and said both the U.S. and North Vietnam must "take risks" for peace in the Paris talks.

Preliminary Missile Talks Under Way

LONDON — The U.S. and Russia have begun preliminary contacts in Moscow that are expected to lead to full-dress negotiations for a missile moratorium. The contacts are under way in Moscow on a diplomatic level. The actual negotiations to limit defensive and offensive rockets will take place in Geneva and will be strictly between the U.S. and the Soviet Union.

Nigeria, Biafra to Hold Peace Talks

NIAMEY, Niger — Nigeria and the secessionist Republic of Biafra Friday night agreed to hold immediate peace talks with President Hamani Diori of the African State of Niger as mediator. The peace talks will be the second attempt by Nigeria and its breakaway former eastern region to end a 13-month-old civil war that was taking a heavy toll in lives, both military and civilian.

DENY SCORPION FOUND

NORFOLK, Va. — A report the lost nuclear submarine Scorpion had been located by search vessels in Atlantic waters 10 times her "crush depth" brought a prompt denial Friday from the U.S. Navy. But sources at the Pentagon and at Atlantic Fleet headquarters here said the search was being concentrated on the "highly suspect" area, 450 miles south-southwest of the Azores, by ships equipped with underwater cameras and sonar scanning devices to check the ocean bottom. Science Writer William Hines of the World Book Science Service prompted the Navy reaction with a story saying Navy search vessels had found the Scorpion and made underwater pictures. But, Hines' story added, the Navy wasn't expected to make any announcement until it had a picture it could release without disclosing any secrets of submarine construction.

Old Navy Shell—Live—Dug Up

TRENTON, N. J. — An old Navy artillery shell, very much alive apparently and packed with enough explosives to "blow up everything around it" was found Friday at a construction site a quarter of a mile from the state Capitol. The six-inch shell, badly rusted and partially decomposed, was taken away by Army demolition experts, who paled after being told the shell had been banged around some before they got there. Several construction workers found it, lugged it up the bank, bounced it on the ground a couple of times "to get the dirt off" and were considering using it for a door stop until the Army took over.

Congress Conferees Vote Housing Bill

WASHINGTON — A House-Senate conference committee approved Friday the largest housing bill in history — a $5.3-billion measure that is designed to construct or rehabilitate over 1.7 million housing units, mostly for low and moderate-income housing. The measure includes a provision that, for the first time, would provide substantial federal funds to help the poor buy their own homes.

Big Steel Local Votes for Strike

PITTSBURGH — One of the largest locals in the United Steelworkers Union voted Friday to strike the steel industry if a contract was not reached by next Thursday. The margin was 6-1 in favor of a strike in the first strike vote taken in the USW's history. "We're tickled pink about this," said George A. Pashkevich, vice president of Local 1104 at Lorain, Ohio. "I know the international will be pleased."

Senate Votes Gang Leader in Contempt

WASHINGTON — The Senate voted unanimously Friday to cite a Chicago street gang leader for contempt. The action followed his refusal to answer questions of senators probing the use of antipoverty funds. All 80 senators present approved the resolution which directs the U.S. attorney of the District of Columbia to prepare a criminal indictment against Jeff Fort, youthful vice president of the Blackstone Rangers.

Agents to Await Hijackers Aboard Flights

MIAMI — Specially trained U.S. agents have begun boarding Florida-bound airline flights in an effort to thwart the epidemic of holdups in the sky. Some 20 such men, armed and incognito, began boarding selected flights after a National Airlines jet was hijacked Wednesday. Attempts have been made to hijack 10 commercial flights this year.

NEGOTIATIONS

Jayne Harries, 16, the debutante daughter of wealthy British banker William Harries, may get to marry her hairdresser, after all.

An intermediary, through whom the Harries have been "negotiating" with the eloped couple, said that Jayne's father may now consent to the marriage of his daughter to Gavin Hodge, 23.

Jayne and Gavin eloped to Portugal from her parents' home in Ewhurst, a London suburb, Tuesday, because her parents would not consent to the marriage.

DJ DIES

Michael Guerra Jr., better known to Los Angeles radio listeners as Bobby Tripp, died Friday in UCLA Medical Center after suffering complications from a chronic blood disease. Tripp, 39, was a disc jockey on radio station KHJ from noon to 3 p.m. daily. He leaves his widow, Joyce, and five children.

WEDDING STAND

Walter Barclay Jr., 25, a policeman paralyzed from the waist down by a burglar's bullet nearly two years ago, will exchange marriage vows in Philadelphia today with Peggy Zaccario, 20. Barclay will stand for the ceremony, with the aid of braces, at a rehabilitation center where he is a patient.

LIZ OPERATION

Actress Elizabeth Taylor will undergo a second "minor" operation of an undisclosed nature Sunday, officials at a private London nursing home said Friday night.

Miss Taylor had a "minor" operation on Wednesday at a clinic which specializes in "acute medical and surgical cases."

The 34-year-old actress was "cheerful, reading, watching television, and visiting with her husband, Richard Burton."

OVERBLOW

A former member of the Tijuana Brass claims he tends to "overblow" and play too loudly on his trumpet since, he says, a drop in an airman's cabin pressure ruined his ear last Oct. 1.

A pretrial hearing is scheduled next Friday in Federal Court in a suit filed by Arthur Mooshagian Jr., 39. He seeks $200,000 damages.

Defendants are Eastern Air Lines and General Dynamics Corp.

Sirhan Granted Plea Delay

public had already heard Judge Schauer outline the ground rules for his armored, heavily-guarded courtroom.

In arguing the continuance for Sirhan, Defense Counsel Russell Parsons said the 24-year-old one-time racetrack exercise boy would be unable to plead because his attorney had received only two reports from one court-appointed psychiatrist and none from another.

At this point, Parsons asked for — and was granted — an encephalogram analysis of his client's brain. In addition, he won from Judge Schauer approval of appointment of a psychologist to aid in future examinations.

Sirhan displayed a smile for the first time in his public appearances since the slaying of Kennedy. He grinned broadly at his brother, Adel, 29, who was in the courtroom. The diminutive 110-pound suspect wore a light blue shirt — open at the throat — with tight-fitting black slacks and black loafers.

SIRHAN, WHO sat immobile during earlier appearances, was a bundle of nerves Friday. He fidgeted and unfolded his hands, rubbed his face, chewed the inside of his right cheek and jiggled his right heel irregularly.

The dialogue between Judge Schauer and Sirhan was brief.

"Are you Sirhan B. Sirhan?" the judge asked.

"Yes, sir," responded Sirhan, his voice audible for one of the few times during the morning hearing.

But when the jurist asked if Sirhan objected to release of information taken by jail doctors for use by psychiatrists, the question confused the suspect. He mumbled something unintelligible.

His attorney said later Sirhan misunderstood the question and thought the judge was asking him about his health. The court reporter later translated Sirhan's reply to the judge's question as:

"I have constantly asked for a sleeping pill."

Attorney Parsons said Sirhan was under "great strain" and said he was "hopeful" the doctors would be able to prescribe sleeping pills for him.

"He hasn't been resting too well," Parsons said.

Among other information gleaned from the hearing and Parsons Friday was:

—Sirhan has been praying regularly, usually when his mother visits him.

—The suspect has been spending most of his time reading. Parsons said Sirhan has just finished a book about the assassination of Gandhi.

Sirhan, brought to this country by his parents when he was 14, was seized immediately after Kennedy was shot in a kitchen corridor at the Ambassador Hotel, where he had just completed a victory speech after winning the California Democratic presidential primary. The New York senator died the next day.

Public Agencies Win Nod on Exemption

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly Friday passed a bill exempting public agencies from a law requiring newspaper publication of prevailing wage rates in advertisements for bids on public works projects.

The Senate-passed measure was approved by a 41-26 vote, the bare minimum required for passage after a bitter debate. It was returned to the Senate for consideration of lower house amendments.

The Department of Public Works estimated that state and local agencies would save $1 million a year if the bill becomes law.

Faculty Drinking Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly Friday defeated, 19-43, a bill which would have prohibited the issuance of liquor-by-the-drink licenses to faculty clubs at public or private colleges and universities.

HELP WANTED-BY BABY GIRL

This infant, about three months old, is being cared for by Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department juvenile authorities since being abandoned June 19 in a picnic shelter at Carver Park on East 118th Street—but she needs a home and authorities would like to know her name. Sheriff Peter J. Pitchess said the child's only distinctive physical feature is a rudimentary growth protruding from the thumb of her left hand. Anyone able to help identify the waif is asked to contact the Sheriff's Juvenile Bureau in person or by telephoning MADison 6-9511 in Los Angeles.

Douglas, NAA Bid for New Navy Jet

North American Rockwell Corp. of El Segundo and McDonnell Douglas Corp. of St. Louis are among five aerospace manufacturers awarded $1 million contracts Friday to begin studies of a replacement for Navy versions of the controversial F111B (TFX) fighter-bomber cancelled by Congress.

The other firms receiving study contracts are General Dynamics Corp. of San Diego, Grumman Aircraft Co. of Bethpage, New York, and LTV Aerospace Corp. of Dallas, Tex.

Competition involves the chance to build a new Navy jet interceptor, designated the VFX 1, which would substitute for the F111B.

The Navy also announced Friday it has awarded the Newport News (Va.) Shipbuilding Co. a contract to build two nuclear-powered guided missile frigates at total cost of $143.5 million.

These would bring to five the Navy's total of atomic-powered escort vessels.

Those currently in service are the cruiser USS Long Beach and the frigates Bainbridge and Truxtun—the latter based in Long Beach. See related story, Page B-1.

L.A. Official Quits, Another Is Fired

One Los Angeles recreation and parks commissioner resigned Friday and another was fired by Mayor Sam Yorty.

Yorty announced that he has received a letter of resignation from Ludlow Flower Jr.

Then the mayor said Francis Lederer also "has been replaced."

The announcement came during mounting furor in the commission over attacks on the Recreation and Parks Department.

Lederer, whose removal from the commission was first reported as a "resignation," later said he knew nothing about it.

The former movie actor, who in Canoga Park, has been a staunch defender of the Recreation and Parks Department staff.

Autos Damaged by Acid Vapor

Sulphuric acid vapor from a ruptured safety valve at a Carson chemical company damaged paint on 30 autos parked in a nearby lot Friday.

County firemen closed off Wilmington Avenue for 15 minutes while they washed down the area, but no one was evacuated.

One man was treated with oxygen when he complained of nausea after the brief, 3:08 p.m. leak at Shell chemical Co., Wilmington Avenue at 207th Street.

Fire officials said the burst of vapor from the pipe drifted over the Borden Chemical Co., 20740 Wilmington Ave., across the street, and speckled cars parked there.

Russ May Call on Armed Czech People's Militia for Takeover

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

For Czechoslovaks impatient for political-economic reform and more freedom, the news from Moscow conjures up a bad dream: that one morning they could wake up and find armed patrols in the streets and the leaders of their reform movement overthrown and jailed.

It could happen. It could be pictured by Moscow as an internal development for which the Soviet Union could claim to be blameless, despite the Soviet Communist Party role in propagandizing for such a development.

Moscow is openly appealing to hard-line, Neo-Stalinist elements in Czechoslovakia and to the armed "People's Militia" there. The implication is that the militia should be ready for something like a coupe, which could halt the Communist-ruled nation's march toward a more liberal system.

Even if the People's Militia declined to accept the bait, there is an implicit threat in Soviet propaganda of heavy support to antireform elements. To turn away that threat, the Communist party chief of Czechoslovakia, Alexander Dubcek, may find himself forced into significant concessions. The Russians evidently think they have his back to the wall.

Logically, Moscow would want to avoid open intervention with troops, for which it would pay a heavy propaganda price around the world, particularly with the still-green memory of the armed intervention in Hungary in 1956. But the tenor of Soviet comment indicates Moscow will go far to halt the reform movement, which it regards as dangerous to Communist rule everywhere.

Familiar with the workings of a Communist apparatus constructed over a 20 year period in Czechoslovakia, Moscow seems to hope that the entrenched bureaucracy in Prague will prove an ally of Communist orthodoxy and set the old apparatus in motion. A key factor in this apparatus is the People's Militia.

What is the People's Militia?

Just after World War II

and the ouster of the Nazis, the Communist party with Russian support began organizing its own armed force into "action committees" in deliberate preparation for the takeover. This action was decisive.

Thereafter the People's Militia became the paramilitary arm of the party, organized in factories and enterprises throughout the nation under control of the party Central Committee. It enjoyed privileges and prerogatives which made it more orthodox than the Central Committee itself.

Now numbering 35,000 armed men under the command of a chief of staff named Rudolf Horcic, the People's Militia is interested in protecting a position it now can consider threatened. Indeed, editorial voices have been raised recently in Czechoslovakia demanding the abolition of the militia.

Soviet propagandists have directed floods of inflammatory propaganda to the militia, urging it to defend the ramparts of "Socialist construction." The appeals from "workers' rallies" all over the Soviet Union direct to the Czechoslovak militia were followed by a rally June 19 of the militia itself in Prague. There were 10,000 militiamen present. Dubcek addressed them in carefully chosen words.

Dubcek assured the militia it could not be blamed for "deformations" of the past, which is the way Czechoslovak politicians refer to the oppressive policies of the fallen regime of former President Antonin Novotny. But militia leaders also spoke. They said that while the organization approved of efforts to "rectify mistakes and unlawful incidents of the past," it rejected any attack on "arrangements which have been indispensable for the conquest and strengthening of the political and economic power of the working class." They warned they would be "guarding the revolutionary legacy" of the 1948 takeover and "our firm alliance with the Soviet Union."

The whole thrust of the revolution, bloodless up to now, has come from writers, students, teachers and intellectuals in general who have been loudly demanding reforms for more than a year. Now workers are being told that their "leading role" in the nation is being threatened by intellectuals.

Although there still are Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia, who failed to leave after the recent Warsaw Pact maneuvers, Moscow seems for the moment to be with the reform regime relying heavily on political pressure and on direct talks with the Kremlin, even greater pressure could be expected and the new regime in Prague would be in mortal danger. It might have no choice but to apply brakes to the reform government.

The 12th and final clue will run August 19th. Clues will be written so that all treasure hunters will be led closer and closer to the hiding place. First person finding the chest will be the winner, claiming one of three cash prizes listed above.

RULES:

- If more than one person is involved with the finding, as a "search partner", the cash prize won may be shared to the co-finders' mutual satisfaction. No duplicate prizes will be awarded by the Sea Festival, Junior Chamber of Commerce, or the Independent, Press-Telegram.

LUCKY BUTTON WITH GOLD STAR may be obtained at a select group of merchants in the Greater Long Beach area through August 5, 1968. Purchase of one of these buttons for $1.00 automatically triples the $300.00 Prize for the Treasure Hunter if he wears it and finds the chest. Names of merchants selling buttons will be listed regularly in the Independent, Press-Telegram.

LUCKY BUTTON WITHOUT GOLD STAR may be purchased from members of the Long Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce only between August 5, and 6 P.M., August 10, or until the treasure is found during that period of time. Purchase of this button for $1.00 will automatically double the basic prize money of $500 for the button owner.

NO BUTTON AT ALL means that you still win $500 if you find the Sea Festival Treasure Chest. Anyone can play!

Bonnie Prince Charles Gets The Future King Build-Up

LONDON (AP) — The wraps are off Prince Charles and the shy student is suddenly getting the full build-up as Britain's future king.

Charles braving eggs and other missiles to talk to Welsh demonstrators . . . Charles visiting Whitehall to see how his government works . . . Charles in miner's helmet going down a mine . . .

The British, who have been treated to a somewhat retiring young chap, now open their newspapers to see a bright new Charles here, there and everywhere.

The 19-year-old prince is also developing a style in humor — something he picked up from his father, Prince Philip.

The latest example came Friday when Charles descended more than 2,000 feet in a coal mine below Sherwood Forest and joked with a miner who had lost his false teeth.

"What happened to your teeth?" the prince asked.

"I took them out and absent-mindedly put them on the conveyor belt," the miner said.

"Oh, that's what I saw smiling at me," quipped Charles.

The miners liked it.

Charles was frisked for cigarettes and matches — forbidden below ground — before he went down the mine.

He smiled and said, "I don't smoke you know" as he raised his arms for an official to tap him down the sides.

At the coal face, the prince had to crawl on all fours in parts of the tunnel only three feet high.

The prince got a taste of the hazards of coal mining when he learned that a 53-year-old miner was killed in another part of the Welbeck colliery while he was there.

The man was struck by a moving coal tub on a different coal face several hundred yards from where the prince was.

Charles sent a personal message of sympathy to the man's widow.

Charles' mining adventure was part of a new Buckingham Palace plan to give the young heir to the throne a more every-day image.

The build-up is well in advance of Charles' biggest public test set for July next year when he is officially

PRINCE CHARLES
Build-up Starts
installed as Prince of Wales in Caernarvon Castle. Charles has already had a taste of antiroyal feeling by Welsh advocates of home rule. They hurled smoke bombs and booed him during a visit earlier this month to the Welsh capital of Cardiff.

Welsh extremists, who see the Caernarvon ceremony as an attempt to keep Wales tied to the central government in London, have threatened to sabotage it.

HHH Aide Asks Viet Cease-Fire

O'Brien Proposes Unilateral Halt
for Test Period

Combined News Services

WASHINGTON — A new member of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's political inner circle Friday offered a proposal for a test cease-fire in Vietnam in hopes of ending the fighting and speeding up peace talks.

The suggestion that the U.S. and South Vietnam announce that they would cease all offensive military action for a stated period of time came from Lawrence O'Brien, the former postmaster general who recently joined the Humphrey campaign.

The vice president, asked about the proposal, recalled that he had urged a cease-fire himself, and said the O'Brien idea was "constructive."

HE ADDED, however, that he would want to weigh "all the consequences ... whether it would leave our men open to merciless attack while we were in a defensive position."

Humphrey's opponent, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, traveled through Kentucky Friday and blamed his own party for the failure of the war on poverty.

The Minnesota senator said the poverty war had failed not only because of lack of funds, but also "because the Democratic party has not been sensitive to the needs of modern democracy. It has, in many cases, obstructed the war on poverty—not intentionally, but as a consequence of its rigid structure."

THE senator also said he had seen an advance copy of the Louis Harris public opinion poll scheduled for publication Sunday and that it showed him leading both Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Richard M. Nixon, while Humphrey led Nixon but trails Rockefeller.

McCarthy said the poll showed he led Nixon 42 per cent to 34 and Rockefeller 38 per cent to 32, Humphrey, McCarthy said, led Nixon by two points, but trailed Rockefeller by three.

Rockefeller, meanwhile, campaigned in New York and New Jersey. He addressed a street-corner rally and led a brief neighborhood walk in Harlem, despite 84-degree heat that caused his shirt to stick to his back. He drew cheers when he said "the war in Vietnam must be brought to an end."

IN THE evening, Rockefeller appeared at a New Jersey delegates' dinner where he said he feels the Soviet Union is "pretty anxious" to see preliminary peace talks in Paris succeed.

He also suggested the U.S. open talks with China to widen the Red Chinese-Soviet rift.

Former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace said in St. Louis that bipartisan talk of stopping his third-party presidential bid proves that his movement has strong support.

A United Press poll of the nation's governors showed that most of them believe Vietnam will be the overriding issue of the campaign. A large number mentioned "law and order" or "crime in the streets," and others, perhaps, talking about the same thing in different language, talked of "the crisis in the cities" or the poverty issue. Twenty governors, 16 of them Republicans, listed the size of the federal budget, inflation, fiscal responsibility or economic stability as a major issue.

Longer School Day for First 3 Grades

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate Friday approved a measure increasing the minimum school day for the first three grades from 200 to 230 minutes. The Assembly-approved bill by Assemblyman James R. Dent, R-Concord, was sent to the governor 37-0.

GARDENING

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

Pyracantha (fire-thorn), of Asiatic origin, is an evergreen thorny shrub of the rose family. It is the most showy of the berried shrubs, because it is weighted down with bright red berries, fortunately during Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday season. The berries are used for table decoration as well as for gift packages.

The arching branches lend themselves well to ground cover use, for slopes and embankments, informal or trimmed hedges, and are particularly their decorative berries. Poinsettias, too, add their spectacular bright red flowers during that season of the year. Having pruned your poinsettias in March or April, now is the time to prune them a second time. The second pruning isn't as drastic as the first one. This time cut back only one-third of the upright new growth that followed the first pruning, and only one-fourth of the spreading new growth.

Check the underside of the foliage for any possible spider mite infestation. Be sure to spray if you detect even a few! Many gardeners when he looked through a pocket magnifying glass and saw many of those mites on the tan flower!

BEST TIME to prune hydrangeas is when the flowers have faded. Cut the branches back to two buds above last year's cuts. Branches that didn't bloom this year should be left alone, unless they're too tall and are in the way.

There have been several recommendations on how to make pink or rose hydrangeas turn blue. They include burying rusty nails around the plant, using soil sulphur, pouring laundry bluing around the plant and using iron sulphate. The one that seems to do the best job is aluminum sulphate. Grow them in partial shade, even in sunny location in coastal areas.

The very best recommendation is to buy the plant when in bloom and select the color you like. Remember though, there are some dwarf forms.

Queries, Answers

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

Q. I have adobe soil. Some areas of my dichondra lawn are very hard and will not absorb water. It is especially true under the magnolia tree. You suggest steer manure or a mulch. Isn't there a soil conditioner which could be applied to break this soil? Also, I would like to plant blue hydrangeas. Will they need special plant food to retain the blue color, or eventually revert to pink or rose color? L.J.E.

A. A former golf pro for Twentieth Century movie stars had a similar adobe soil, poor-growing dichondra lawn no matter what he did for it. The lawn was watered, and next day the hardest spots in the 400 square-foot area were spiked with a spading fork. Two sacks of spread mulch material were evenly applied, then one quart of a soil rinse containing sulphur in a liquid form, a penetrant and 17 per cent nitrogen, was applied. The area then was watered well, and normally watered thereafter. This was done in a month of July which was hotter than blazes. Two weeks and one day later, the lawn had grown between three and four inches high! However, don't expect such results under the magnolia tree because of the masses of string-size roots throughout the soil area. You'd be wise to plant mondo grass or baby's tears under that tree. Be sure to have a barrier (metal lawn guard) to confine the ground cover. Anent the blue hydrangeas, yes, in time the blue color fades from the flowers. Apply aluminum sulphate to help the plants hold their true color. Feed them an acid fertilizer.

Joe Littlefield recommends that you:

- Plant pyracantha for ground cover, slopes, hedges, espallier treatment—and showy red Christmas season berries.
- Prune poinsettias, check for spider mites.
- Prune hydrangeas when flowers have faded, check for spider mites.
- Use aluminum sulphate for blue hydrangeas.

decorative when espalliered on fence or wall in full sun or partial shade.

Gardener must be patient after the plant has been set out, even though it may have been heavily massed with berries, because the next year or two it may not produce any berries at all. This is due to the exceptionally fast root and branch development, when the confined roots cramped in the container discover all the extra space to grow in the ground.

PYRACANTHA, cotoneaster and holly all are considered useful holiday season plants because of have wondered why they didn't have any foliage on their poinsettia plants when they cut the blossoms for holiday decoration. They didn't realize that spider mites can damage the poinsettia leaves and cause them to die.

Hydrangeas, too, are susceptible to these damaging mites. We've even had a gardener bring two large hydrangea blossoms to a nursery where we were conducting a garden clinic. The gardener thought he had a "sport" blossom, because it was a tan color, whereas the regular blossom was a lovely rich pink. Gardener couldn't believe it

He credited Gen. Bernard Schriever with development of ballistic rockets, Dr. Edward Teller with making possible the miniaturized thermonuclear warhead, Gen. Curtis LeMay with developing the supersonic jet strike force, and Adm. Hyman Rickover with conceiving the missile-submarine combination.

NONE OF these men, he charged, has been utilized to his fullest by the Johnson administration. Schriever, Reagan said, resigned from the service during the reign of that "efficient disaster, Robert McNamara," former secretary of defense.

"The truth is that the Great Society has brought forth little that is great and

State Senate Limits Sales Tax Hikes

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate approved Friday a measure forbidding cities to levy any sales tax increases beyond 1 per cent. The proposal by Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez, cleared 28-5 to the Assembly.

Miller tacked his tax bill onto a proposed constitutional amendment by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond. The amendment would allow the Legislature to authorize local governments to make agreements on dividing up revenue from local sales taxes.

If the lower house goes along with Miller's preemption rider it would go on the November ballot for ratification by the voters.

nothing that is new," he said. "Our leaders... have been out of touch with reality. They have failed miserably. It is time to turn them out."

Reagan spoke for just over 50 minutes, which an aide said was the longest speech he had ever given. He departed from his prepared text at great length, apparently in an effort to counteract the inference he permitted to be drawn from last Tuesday's press conference in Sacramento, when he said it would be difficult to "pin down" where his views differed from those of Alabama's segregationist former governor, George Wallace.

THE Californian told the all-white audience that the best way to wage a war on poverty was to provide equal educational and job opportunities for all Americans, regardless of color.

He told of recent meetings with representatives of California's minorities and said that better schooling and more equal job opportunities were what they asked for, and he said he was determined to try and fulfill those requests.

The most enthusiastic audience response, however, was his declaration that it was in this country's national interest to be in Vietnam and "to do what must be done to accomplish our purpose there."

Recall Reagan Centers in L.B.

Petitions seeking the recall of California Gov. Ronald Reagan will be circulated in two places in downtown Long Beach today.

A drive-through petition-signing service will be set up again directly across the street from the Long Beach Police Department in a gate-at-large Pat Patterson, who lost the U.S. Senate race to Democrat Fred Harris two years ago, said as many as 17 delegates now favor Reagan.

Only six New Mexico delegates were on hand, including Gov. David Cargo, but three were solid for Reagan and a fourth was "leaning." Cargo himself is believed to be solidly in Reagan's camp.

All of Reagan's supporters from other states insisted that the convention was still wide open, although all conceded that Nixon was clearly the present front-runner.

REAGAN was not present in the room when White made his appeal to the delegates. The California governor first fulfilled his formally announced mission, asking the delegates to get behind Republican candidates and telling them that a vote for George Wallace would be a wasted vote.

He admitted that Wallace, if he persisted in his candidacy, was capable of hurting Republican chances in November more than Democratic chances.

After his brief remarks, Reagan left the room at the plush Villa Inn on the outskirts of town, and White then made his pitch.

The Recall Reagan committee will also have petitions available on Fifth Street, on the east side of Long Beach Boulevard, according to Mrs. Richard Connelly, local chairman.

their meeting. Thieu has adamantly opposed recognizing the NLF in any fashion. But Hanoi has insisted that the Viet Cong be brought into any expanded version of the Paris peace talks.

"We do hope, of course, that a just and honorable peace can be obtained at the negotiating table," Thieu said in his only publicly disclosed remarks concerning the talks.

"We would have, however, to make sure that such a peace could be durable. Past experiences have

Extension to Be Asked on Recall

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The leader of the movement to recall Gov. Ronald Reagan says he will seek a 60-day extension of the July 31 deadline for filing petition signatures.

Edwin Koupal, a Northern California car salesman, told a Friday news conference he is seeking the extension under a 1968 constitutional revision that allows collection of supplemental signatures after the normal deadline.

Koupal said that more than 800,000 signatures are ready to file and more are coming in to the Los Angeles County headquarters at a rate of 4,000 to 8,000 a day.

To qualify the measure for the ballot, 780,414 valid signatures are needed.

Assistant Secretary of State H. P. (Pat) Sullivan said in Sacramento that Koupal's claim to the right to an additional 60 days is not valid.

shown that peace cannot be secured simply through the pledges and signatures of the aggressors. It has to be accompanied by effective international guarantees, credible to friends and foes alike."

A White House spokesman said Secretary of State Dean Rusk joined Johnson and Thieu in their private conversations "to brief President Thieu on the current diplomatic situation, including his evaluation of the Paris talks."

DEFENSE Secretary Clark Clifford, Chief of Staff Earle G. Wheeler, Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and their Vietnamese counterparts joined the presidents in the delegation meetings.

In a lengthy statement, Thieu cited steps taken by his government to eradicate corruption, build a broad political base and develop South Vietnam's economy while at the same time fighting the Communists.

"Our enemy has been seriously weakened by our vigorous responses," Thieu said concerning the recent heavy fighting in South Vietnam. But Thieu added:

"We realize that the road ahead is still long and arduous."

Spokesmen said the two delegations discussed the "military situation" but made no mention of possible talks on a further halt in the bombing of North Vietnam.

Hanoi has demanded an unconditional halt in all bombing raids over North Vietnam.

Both South Vietnam and the United States take the position there should be concrete de-escalation by the Communists before such a halt is ordered.

Assembly OK's Movie Industry Tax-Aid Plan

Combined News Services

SACRAMENTO — A $2.3-million property tax relief plan for California's well-traveled but lagging movie industry was approved 54-18 Friday by the Assembly.

Supporters of the bill said it would keep movie-makers from traveling to Europe and other locations to avoid state taxes.

But basically, the problem is unemployment, said Assemblyman George N. Zenovich, D-Fresno. "The average monthly unemployment is 38 per cent of the movie production people," he said.

OPPOSITION said the bill by Sen. Ralph C. Dills, D-Gardena, merely provides a tax subsidy to a basically wealthy industry. The proposed legislation would tax movie film only as a physical item, not far its entertainment value or its copyright.

The bill would mean that a film copy of "The Sound of Music" would be assessed only for its tangible value of about $120, said Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R-Modesto. "I'd like to buy a copy of The Sound of Music for $120."

The bill was sent back to the Senate for consideration of an Assembly amendment that would provide state funds to replace lost tax revenues in movie producing areas such as Burbank and Culver City.

THE SENATE Friday hung a rider on Gov. Ronald Reagan's $155-million property tax relief bill to make sure local government would not lose revenue by repeal of the tax on furniture and household goods.

Approval of the amendment by Sen. Lewis Sherman, R-Berkeley, delayed at least until Monday final action on the bill that tops the administration's legislative priority list.

The author of the bill, Assemblyman John G. Veneman, said he did not like the amendment. But he said he did not think the change would damage the main provisions of the bill. The administration bill has two separate parts: —It appropriates $155 million during this fiscal year to the counties to permit them to reduce property tax levies.

—It prohibits, effective July 1, 1969, the levy of a property tax on furniture and household goods.

Sherman's rider would provide up to $55 million a year to reimburse cities, counties and school districts for funds they would lose by repeal of the household goods tax. The money would come from the property tax relief fund.

Transplant Bill Goes to Governor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate gave final legislative approval Friday to a bill spelling out for the first time what legal procedures doctors must follow during transplant operations.

The bill, entitled the "Anatomical Gift Act," was sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan for his signature.

Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, said the most important provision in the legislation requires a patient's personal physician rather than a member of a transplant team, to determine when death occurs.

"That provision frees doctors from a terrible conflict of interests," said Beilenson.

He said a doctor, intent upon performing a successful transplant, would not have to worry about sacrificing the life of the donor. The donor's own physician, interested only in his patient's welfare, would make that decision, Beilenson said.

Other provisions of the bill authorize a spouse, an adult offspring or a parent to agree to the transplantation operation, if there is no time to consult with the patient in advance.

Assembly OKs New Text Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Modification of California's law requiring school districts to buy state-approved textbooks for elementary grades was approved 42-2 Friday by the Assembly.

There was little discussion or explanation of the measure on the Assembly floor. The bill by Sen. Albert S. Rodda, D-Sacramento, was sent back to the Senate for a vote on Assembly amendments.

THE proposed legislation would allow the State Board of Education to give elementary schools a choice of four texts for each grade and subject. Assemblyman Victor V. Veysey, R-Brawley, called the bill "a very cautious step forward."

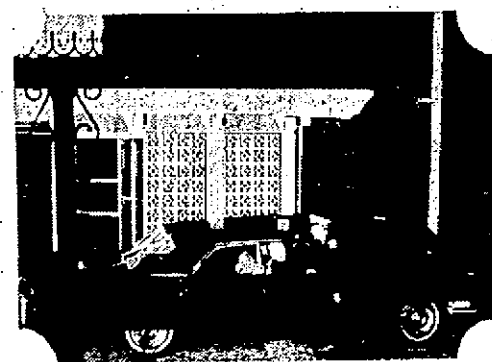

Veysey had proposed a measure calling for a choice of eight textbooks to replace the single book adoptions.

Chairman Leroy F. Greene of the Assembly Education Committee explained the controversial bill quickly to the full Assembly. "That is the greatest mumble job I've heard," Veysey said of Greene, D-Sacramento.

The State Public Utilities Commission Friday again ordered Cable Flying Service to halt passenger flights between Los Angeles International and the Orange and Ventura County airports.

The order halts the commuter air service until final determination on a complaint by Golden West Airlines that Cable Flying Service held no PUC certificate for intrastate operations.

Cable contended in a July 8 hearing in Los Angeles that it was an interstate carrier with flights from Los Angeles to Lake Havasu, Ariz., and not subject to PUC jurisdiction.

In Washington, West-gate-California, a holding company asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to approve its plan to acquire control of Los Angeles Airways, operator of scheduled helicopter service in the Los Angeles area.
The company told examiner Edward T. Stodola it has agreements to purchase for $1.9 million the 5 per cent subordinated convertible income notes of Los Angeles Airways held by American Airlines, and for $2.3 million those held by United Air Lines. The notes would be converted into capital stock.

The company said this would give it 54.5 per cent of LAA's outstanding common stock, with the remaining stock to be purchased later.
Earlier this year, West-gate purchased Aero Commuter and its subsidiary, Catalina Airlines, which operates air taxi service between Catalina Island and Long Beach.

Terrible Ordeal Convincingly Told

CHILD OF THE HOLOCAUST. By Jack Kuper. Doubleday, $4.95.

Jankele Kuperblum was barely 9 and away working on a farm near his native village in Poland when the Nazis deported his family.
For a while he was sheltered by the Ukrainian family that employed him, but he left because of the threat of Nazi reprisal and wandered four years from haystack to haystack, suffering incredible hardships while seeking food-for-work from farmers. Some were decent; some no better than their German masters, puppets and informers. The boy hid his Jewish identity with Christian aliases and church attendance, never daring to swim nude or bathe in the presence of others.

BUT HE tried, not always successfully, to be true to his heritage, forlornly hoping he might find his father or another relative. At war's end he tried suicide because of survival guilt: "Why did I, and only I, survive?" He found a distant relative in liberated Lublin, was placed in an orphanage, fled and, in a refugee center, penned on the wall: "Jankele Kuperblum is alive."

This, then, is Jack Kuper, the author, who emigrated from Poland to Canada in 1948 at the age of 15 and is a writer for radio, TV and stage. The story of his terrible ordeal is convincingly told. —Morry Rabin.

U.S. Dental Schools in Trouble

LOS ANGELES (CNS) — "Massive" federal support is the only thing that can save at least 10 of the nation's private dental schools from closing their doors, the dean of the University of Southern California School of Dentistry said Friday.

Dr. John I. Ingle, member of a committee trying to find ways to prevent the closing of the schools — all of which face serious fiscal shortages — said "the only form of support we can see is the federal government."

Ingle said about half of the 50 dental schools in the nation are private, and about half of these are in serious financial trouble.

Ingle, member of the three-man committee appointed by the American Dental Association and the American Association of Dental Schools, recently returned from St. Louis University after a two-week survey of the problem.

He said USC is in no danger of closing, adding the Los Angeles campus has "the best outside support of any school in the country."

He said, however, USC's dental school cost the university $100,000 last year.

to one long familiar with his grand capers.
Frischauer, a prominent Viennese author, was privy to unknown facts about the close-mouthed man who made his first million before he was 20.

Alfred is the magnate's intimate friendship with opera diva Maria Callas which caused international gossip.

WHAT proves quite interesting are Onassis' own views and predictions about himself and his career.

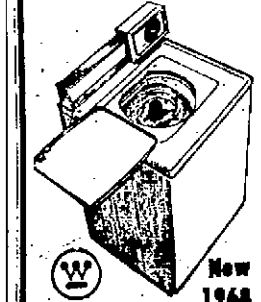

Few personalities create as much intrigue as the Golden Greek. Onassis masterminded ingenious business schemes in Argentina, amassed a $500-million fortune, was a bosom friend of Churchill and John F. Kennedy.

Frischauer points up the many facets of the man in a frank study. —Jim Goodrich.

REPLACED BY HOODS

Flower Children Desert 'Hashbury'

By JACK SCHREIBMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The firebomb and night-stick have displaced the daffodil in the Haight-Ashbury District, where hippie flower children used to be the attraction.

They used to say "Haight is Love" and call the street "Peace Street." A tourist might have a flower shoved into his hand. They were plenty weird, the flower kids, but they wouldn't hurt you.

Today, peaceful folk steer clear of the neighborhood where the indolent, bead-jangling love-spouting hippies have been shoved aside by hoods, footpads, thugs and vandals.

The merchants of Haight-Ashbury—or "hashbury"—see the spectre of vacated shops, padlocks, boarded windows a wasteland once a lively, colorful and profitable area.

ONE SOLUTION has been found by Robert Bank, for 12 years operator of a jewelry store at Clayton and Haight. His windows were smashed Thursday.

"I'm getting out," he said. "I've had enough."

"Last year you could negotiate with the hippies. They were in control. Now, there are rebels. I don't see any leadership. There are agitators . . . winos . . . drug pushers . . ."

IT WAS reported that on Thursday, a few hippies went out onto Haight Street and cleared it of hurled trash. They swept it clean and left it a model of what a clean street should be.

A few hours later the street was a mess again. Shots were fired. Officers were assaulted. Forty-eight persons were arrested.

That was the third straight night of trouble in Hashbury.

Mayor Joseph Alloto and Police Chief Thomas Cahill said in a joint statement: "There is no question the situation is serious, but police have been acting firmly. The area is being policed all the time."

Traffic Takes Three Lives, Minibike Accident Kills Boy

An 86-year-old North Long Beach man was killed Friday in a two-car collision in front of Lakewood sheriff's substation and three other persons died of injuries suffered in other Southland accidents.

Dead are:

—Harry Garland, 5408 Walnut Ave.

—Franklin T. Archambo, 22, of the USS Catskill, Long Beach Naval Station.

—Carl W. Tomlinson, 25, of 1430 Palos Verdes St., San Pedro.

—Joseph Terrell Jr., 13, of 201 S. Stevens Ave., Brea.

Deputies said Garland was thrown through the windshield of his small foreign car from the impact of a collision with another auto in front of 5130 Clark Ave.

His wife, Mary, 84, was in critical condition at Woodruff Community Hospital, where she was treated for a concussion after being thrown out of the car.

Deputies said Garland made a left turn in front of the other auto. No one was injured in the second vehicle.

Archambo was killed when his auto struck a concrete abutment on the Gate 5 off-ramp of the Gerald Desmond Bridge and flipped end over end several times.

His passenger, Robert Gillman, 22, also of the Catskill, was thrown clear of the wreckage, stumbled onto the highway and flagged down an amateur radio operator who summoned police.

Gillman was in satisfactory condition at Long Beach Naval Hospital, where he was treated for head injuries.

Minutes earlier, Tomlinson smashed his car into a wall at a Torrance manufacturing plant on Western Avenue at 224th Street.

He was dead on arrival at Harbor General Hospital.

Young Terrell died in St. Jude Hospital Fullerton, of severe head injuries received when his minibike struck an object in a field near his home Thursday and sent him soaring through the air.

WRIGHT SAID the change in released time was adopted to bring Long Beach more closely into line with other school districts.

"Some have more released time than we do," he said, "but others have less. Eight districts in the area have none. And the Los Angeles district has 40 minutes — exactly what we propose."

Mrs. Uhl said the letter to Wright and board members set forth five specific reasons for rejection of the school district 40 minutes proposal. They are:

—The program has been in effect in Long Beach for almost 25 years and it has worked "with great success."

—Under a 40-minute release time, less than 30 minutes of instruction would be available after students were transported to various locations.

—More than 4,000 Long Beach students participate in the released time program annually, and should not be penalized by missing new classroom material being offered while they attend religious instruction.

In the past, the school district has used the time for study review, but Wright disclosed July 10 the district will no longer follow this policy.

—Children on released time should not be put in the position of interrupting classes by getting up and leaving 40 minutes before school closes.

—Parents of students involved in the program feel less than 60 minutes of religious instruction each week is "completely inadequate."

In rejecting the 40-minute plan the Inter-Faith Committee ignored the advice of Rev. Dwight A. Hoelscher, associate minister of the First Congregational Church.

In a letter to Wright the minister said he was advising the executive secretary of the Long Beach Area Council of Churches—Rev. Don Lindblom—"that I feel we should accept your terms for the coming year."

Robert H. Stearns, of 3336 Falcon Ave., hinted at misconduct on the part of the board in reaching the decision to slash released time for Long Beach school children.

Stearns, chairman of the Citizens Committee to Save Religious Release Time Education in Long Beach, said members of the committee have been checking and rechecking all agendas and minutes of school board meetings in an effort to determine when the board formally reached its decision to cut released time.

"So far," said Stearns, "we haven't been able to locate anything that would indicate they met formally on the matter."

"That would lead a person to believe they either discussed the matter without it being on the agenda, or met in secret to discuss it."

"If it's the former, it would constitute at least a breach of good faith with the citizens of the community. If it is the latter, there may be a violation of the Brown Act involved."

Stearns, who said he has had a son in the released time program, and now has a daughter about to enter it, described himself as "a very selfish parent."

"I want to make sure my children have the opportunity to obtain this kind of education," he said.

Mrs. Uhl said the Inter-Faith Committee has "always had extremely congenial relationships with the Long Beach school board in the past" and said she disliked the end of such relationships.

"We're praying they'll go along with us," she said.

The Inter-Faith Committee, which administers religious instruction for Long Beach school children, Friday rejected a one-third time cut.

The committee indicated it is studying the agendas and minutes of Long Beach Unified School District meetings "to determine if the board of education violated the Brown Act" in reaching a decision on the released time arrangement.

"The Inter-Faith Committee feels that 40 minutes of released time is unacceptable," Mrs. Robert Uhl, committee secretary, said.

SHE SAID a letter expressing this view has been sent to O. D. Wright, district superintendent, and to each member of the school board.

She said the IFC accepted released time reduction from two hours to one hour in 1966 with the assurance there would be no further reductions.

Under the released time arrangement, students are given time away from regular classes for religious instruction in the faith of their choice.

In Long Beach, the National Council of Churches, the Roman Catholic archdiocese and a number of evangelical churches participate — as members of the Inter-Faith Committee — in the program.

City's Planners Will Tackle Apartment Garage Question

By DON BRACKENBURY Staff Writer

Do low-rent, senior-citizens apartment buildings need as much garage space as regular apartments, or would lessening their parking requirements give them "unfair advantage" over private enterprise?

The Long Beach Planning Commission will debate this question Thursday.

The question is at the heart of a report, prepared by the planning staff at the request of the City Council, which was submitted to the commission earlier by Planning Director Werner Ruchti.

The report distinguishes between senior-citizens projects which are "privately financed and profit-oriented" and those financed by government loans and under restrictions as to minimum ages and maximum income of prospective tenants.

At present, city ordinances require regular apartment buildings must provide one garage parking space for each one-bedroom dwelling unit and 1 1/4 garage spaces for each unit of two or more bedrooms.

The proposal submitted to the Planning Commission would change the requirement so that senior-citizens projects financed under federal loans which specify a minimum age of 62 and maximum income of $4,500 for single persons and $5,400 for married couples would have to have only one garage for each three dwelling units.

Other apartments, even if financed by government loan, would have to meet the present parking requirements if they set no age or income levels, or if the maximum income were higher than the $4,500 and $5,400 limits.

Commissioner Donald W. Phillips said he thought this was establishing a "double standard," favoring those who get the government financing.

Ruchti said the commission must be "realistic" and not require more parking than needed.

"The reason we have a parking problem is that we weren't on the ball 10 or 20 years ago," Commissioner William A. Lockett said.

Commission Chairman Arnold B. Berg said he felt the commission would be "remiss" in its duties if it cut down parking facilities.

The eight-page report listed statistics showing persons over 62 have fewer automobiles, noting they constitute only 9.86 per cent of California's licensed operators.

L.B. School Religious Time Cut Under Fire

The Inter-Faith Committee, which administers religious instruction for Long Beach school children, Friday rejected a one-third time cut.

The committee indicated it is studying the agendas and minutes of Long Beach Unified School District meetings "to determine if the board of education violated the Brown Act" in reaching a decision on the released time arrangement.

"The Inter-Faith Committee feels that 40 minutes of released time is unacceptable," Mrs. Robert Uhl, committee secretary, said.

CUPID WINS

He Goes to Arms, but Not Army's

By TONY CILLO Staff Writer

Not even an army can stop the course of true love, especially when a U.S. congressman is on Cupid's team.

Timothy P. Coomes, 21, of 6023 Lakewood Blvd., Lakewood, and Donna Lee Vaughn, 20, of 3851 LeSage St., Lynwood, were all set to be married—invitations mailed, church reserved, flowers purchased, even the cake ordered.

The date: today, July 20.

Then it happened. On June 29, Coomes got a different and disconcerting invitation from the Army.

Report, the Army asked in the commanding way. It has, to Ft. Dix, N.J., July 6 for basic training.

But I'm getting married in a month, Coomes said.

Sorry about that, answered the Army. And off went Pfc. Coomes—member of the California National Guard—3,000 miles from his bride-to-be.

BEFORE HE LEFT, however, he wrote Congressman Craig Hosmer, R-Long Beach, and asked for help in getting a postponement—or at least permission to fly home for his own wedding.

The congressman called the Army brass in Washington, D.C.

Well, the Army allowed that since Coomes wasn't to report until July 6, there wasn't much they could do about the situation when the congressman called, July 2.

Can't give a man a weekend pass if he isn't in the Army.

So...

After Coomes arrived at the eastern installation, Hosmer called again.

Okay, the Army said, Coomes would be given a leave starting July 18.

"This wedding is the compliments of Congressman Hosmer," said a happy mother of the bride-to-be, Mrs. Helen F. Roberts, Friday.

"He even called long distance—bless him—and said 'tell the kids they have all my blessings.'"

Coomes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Coomes, of Lakewood, will return to Ft. Dix Tuesday—happily married, with memories of a wedding in the Lynwood Southern Baptist Church today and a weekend honeymoon in Santa Barbara.

MUSIC GREET'S WARSHIP IN L.B.

USS Truxtun Arrives Home

By BUCK LANIER Military Editor

The nuclear frigate USS Truxtun arrived home Friday, and was greeted by a musical welcome from the destroyer tender USS Bryce Canyon as she moored at the Naval Station's Pier 16.

The Truxtun completed a seven-month stand-in the Western Pacific during which she handled coverage in the Sea of Japan following the Jan. 23 seizure of the USS Pueblo by North Korean gunboats.

The Truxtun accompanied the nuclear carrier USS Enterprise on that mission.

Capt. David D. Work recalled the orders which greeted the Truxtun in late January. The vessel was ordered to "turn around and proceed to the Sea of Japan off Wonsan, North Korea..." The Truxtun and Enterprise were the first American warships to reach the area.

"We started out to prove our ship and we did it," the skipper said. The vessel was placed in commission just 14 months ago. Other chores for the Truxtun's 475-man crew during the WestPac deployment included:

Acting as an advance picket station for air, surface and subsurface surveillance plus early warning coordination.

Screening for the Enterprise while the giant carrier operated air strikes off Yankee Station.

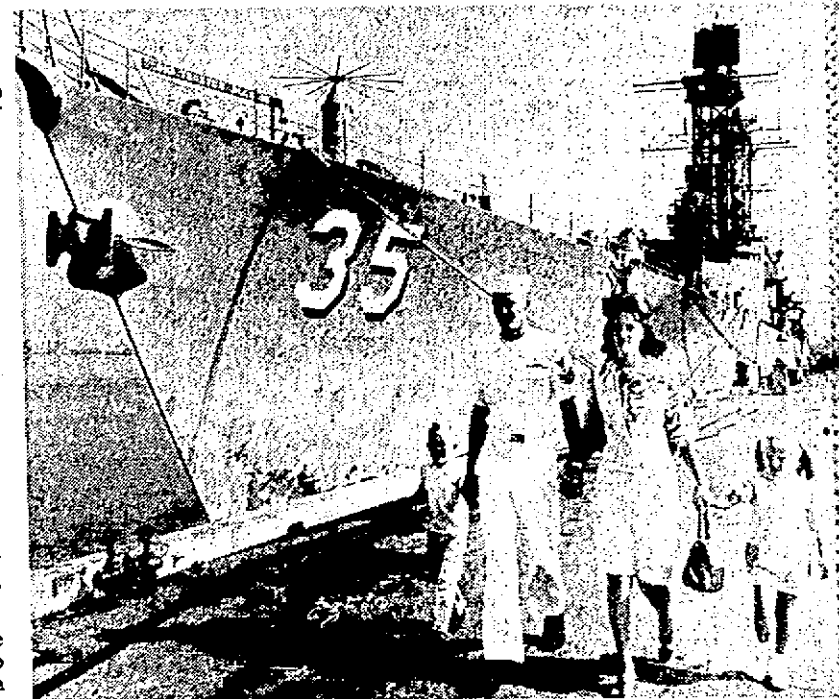

Serving as an air search and rescue unit.

"We moved around so fast the mail helos had trouble keeping up with us," Capt. Work said.

The captain also had high praise for newly rated Electronic Technician 3.C. R. B. Beavan.

"This young man made his rate while working with the deck force and had no formal electronic training," the captain said.

Capt. Work added the ship's first night helicopter landing also turned out to be the helicopter's first night landing at sea.

Alamitos NAS Gets First of 5 Jet-Powered Copters

By BARBARA KNESIS
Staff Writer

The first SH3A Sikorsky turbine-powered helicopter to arrive on the West Coast landed Friday forenoon at Los Alamitos Naval Air Station.

A host of naval brass and newsmen were on hand to welcome Lts. Norman Wiemeyer and Ed Carey who piloted the aircraft from Quonset, R.I.

"It's a real fine aircraft and we had a very comfortable trip," Wiemeyer told the greeters.

The two men left Quonset last Saturday, averaging about 110 knots an hour. They estimated they spent 30 to 33 hours aloft.

Both Wiemeyer and Carey will remain at Los Alamitos NAS to train reserve pilots there in antisubmarine warfare use of the copter.

Although six years old, the SH3A series was not used until last year by reservists, and then only those on the East Coast.

Cmdr. James Zimmerman, base helicopter program director, said the most significant thing about the SH3A is its twin turbine powerplant.

He said it has double the power of the present Sea-Bal H34 copters, but weighs only a sixth as much.

"It also has higher speed and longer endurance than the H34," he said.

The copter is the first of five to arrive. The rest are due by September, Zimmerman said.

Hearing Continued on Application for Preschool Nursery

Planning commissioners have agreed that a preschool nursery in the Long Beach Central Area would be desirable, but expressed doubt whether it should be in an R-4 residential zone.

In an effort to try to work out the problems, the commission voted to continue until Aug. 15 the hearing on application of Joe L. Wood for a zoning variance to permit a nursery at 2161 Myrtle Ave.

Protests against the nursery were received from owners of 19 per cent of the property within a 300-foot radius; commissioners were told.

Hood identified himself as an official of the Community Improvement League, and has been working with the league to try and operate a nursery on Hill Street at Olive Avenue. Facilities there are too small, he said.

HOOD SAID he has owned the property at 2161 Myrtle Ave. for six years. There is a small building on the lot, but this would be removed and a new building constructed, he said.

Commissioner Donald W. Phillips pointed out that the Central Area has a surplus of commercial zones, and commented, "you could locate almost any place except where you are."

Hood said, however, they have not been able to obtain other property for the facility, primarily because of economic reasons.

"The need is great and your interest is commendable, but I don't think that this is the place," said Commissioner Weckford Morgan.

Typical of the protests was that of Mrs. Ruth Henderson, 2165 Myrtle Ave., who lives next door to the site. She expressed concern about noise, and opposed commercial intrusion into a residential district.

The four-week continuance was proposed by Commissioner Edwin J. Wilson, who said he thought the problem should be given "a very thorough examination."

Phillips agreed that the commission "has an obligation" to try and solve the problem.

Autonetics Plant for Laguna Niguel

A Babylonian-style structure, its seven stories stair-stepping up a hillside pyramid fashion, will be put under construction this fall in the Mission Viejo - Laguna Niguel area as the Autonetics data systems division.

S. F. Eyestone, president of North American Rockwell Corp., the parent company, said the investment will approximate $23 million, including 1,300 acres of land recently bought.

The data systems plant expects to employ 7,500 persons when it is occupied late in 1969. It will be the first manufacturing plant in the Laguna Niguel-Mission Viejo area.

Prof. McGaugh Named UCI Biology School Dean

Prof. James L. McGaugh, whose research forte is the biological basis for memory and learning, was named Friday to be dean of the school of biological sciences for the University of California at Irvine.

Since the first dean, Prof. Edward A. Steinhaus, asked to be re-assigned to full-time teaching and research a year ago, McGaugh has headed the department as acting dean.

McGaugh, 36, was one of the first faculty members named when UCI was recruiting its staff in 1964. A graduate of San Jose State College, McGaugh had taught there as an assistant professor and at University of Oregon.

Lately, he has undertaken experiments with children at Fairview State Hospital in hopes that a new drug will improve their learning abilities.

He said his laboratory research showed that rats and mice improved abilities to learn when injected with the drug.

THE PROGRAM will be conducted by Ruby Goakes, formerly an instructor with the Goodwill Industries Workshop, in facilities at 2951 Hathaway St., Signal Hill.

Although the center will handle only a minimum number of trainees initially, it will be capable of accommodating 55, Mrs. Guillon said.

LED TOUR OF HOLY LAND

L.B. Pastor Saw No Signs of Mideast Reconciliation

There is not much evidence that a Middle East settlement is in sight between Israel and the Arab states, reports a Long Beach pastor who conducted a group tour of the Holy Land.

Rev. Allan Snider will return to the pulpit at Glad Tidings Assembly of God, 1900 South St., this Sunday, and at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. will speak on the month-long tour, which also included some European cities. He will stress matters of interest relating to Biblical sites.

In a chat this week, Rev. Snider said life in Israel looks normal to the eye, though there are ample evidences of the military, and of a wary alertness. "The progress they have made in Israel is obvious to a visitor," the pastor noted, "in the development and restoration of the land, etc. There have been great accomplishments."

Rev. Snider spoke to some Arab businessmen in East Jerusalem, the former Jordanian section. "They were cautious in their statements, as you can understand," he related. "One told me he had left his business and fled, and then returned. Their major complaint is that business is bad because of uncertainty over what will happen in the future. They tended to blame Israel for this."

"I also spoke to Arab intellectuals. One has to recognize that they felt this was their land, and that they were moved out by force in the creation of Israel. An Arab may bitterly tell you, why should the Arabs be penalized because of what Hitler and Germany did to the Jews. And the Arab refugee situation is bad, we saw one of the old camps."

Rev. Snider and his group saw the imposing Syrian fortifications at the Golan Heights, seized by Israeli troops during the lightning war. "There were tremendous fortifications there, even underground trains and tracks, and lots of Russian-made arms. Some Israelis I spoke to there used a picturesque expression about that area. They said it had been like someone sitting on the roof of your house and shooting down into your flat. They went up and knocked them off."

Nor are they about to give back the "roof," in the Long Beach pastor's opinion. "You get the definite feeling that the Israelis have had it with being shelled from those heights."

Israelis look to the Hebrew scripture for confirmation of the validity of events in Israel, he said. "They cite what they consider the miraculous events in their recent wars. Even the non-orthodox will compare Israel's armed forces to Gideon's Army."

As for the refugees, Israelis told Rev. Snider they had their own reasons for fleeing from persecution in Arab lands, but they "took care of them, trained them for jobs, etc. The implication was that the Arabs should have done the same with their own refugees."

The Arabs, of course, do not see it this way, he pointed out, since they consider the Arab refugees as people who have been dispossessed from their own country.

"There are no simple answers to these problems between Israel and the Arabs," is Rev. Snider's conclusion.

Inner resources must go along with military might in the defense of the country, the chief of chaplains of the U.S. Navy said. Friday as he dedicated the Naval Station's new Faith Chapel.

"A generation that plans for nothing higher than comfort or material security is a natural prey to the insidious corrosion of its strength and vitality," Rear Adm. James W. Kelly told some 250 guests at ceremonies marking completion of the handsome 250-seat chapel.

The 55-year-old Arkansas native, who has served on active duty assignments in three wars, emphasized the importance of mobilizing "our spirit and moral resources."

Referring to the "grave responsibilities in this time of conflict, of threat to our security and freedom, and of collective guilt feelings as a result of recent crimes of violence on the American scene," Adm. Kelly made pungent reference to some human failings.

"We have the knowledge," he said, "to build gleaming edifices of worship, but we lack the wisdom to make them houses of prayer for all people."

"We have the knowledge," he continued in Biblical cadence, "to write books on theology and ethics, but we lack the wisdom to apply the teachings of Jesus Christ to our hearts."

"We have the knowledge to divine the secrets of atomic energy, but we lack the wisdom to live in peace and harmony."

"We have the knowledge to send astronauts into space, but we lack the wisdom to realize that our destiny is eternal."

"We have the knowledge to air condition our homes, but we lack the wisdom to cool our tempers."

Adm. Kelly, who in his three years of heading the chaplain program has instituted a vastly expanded program of professional seminars, and has stressed what he terms an "open attitude" toward other persons with a high regard for individual differences, drew on his love of music for a striking simile.

HE SAID he has watched a symphony of 100 individuals, "of mortal clay," and has been "awed" by the product of their combined effort. "They have so disciplined their hands and minds... to release a beauty and grandeur that they could not achieve until they did it together. You in your individual faiths attending this chapel can express together what you cannot say alone."

"You will come to this chapel to broaden your perspective — needing to catch a glimpse of the wholeness that constitutes your existence."

Laying aside his prepared remarks and removing his reading glasses, Adm. Kelly concluded with this afterthought: "I can't refrain from coming back to Vietnam. You know, anywhere you go there among our men, in the jungles, the mountains, the deltas, up near the DMZ, anywhere, you'll see these little chapels they build, little houses of worship, out of plywood, odds and ends, elephant grass... You have this beautiful place here. I hope it will be as meaningful to you as those little chapels are to our fine and wonderful men in Vietnam."

IN AN interview before the ceremonies, Adm. Kelly termed the morale of Navy men in the Vietnam war "outstanding."

"I do not feel," he said, "that anyone can make a really intelligent observation on comparing morale."

"We aim to teach this to all our people — as you know, it isn't that easy or automatic, we aim at it, and we do find these good results on the whole."

Adm. Kelly said men of religion are "deeply aware of and sensitive to" possibilities of regrettable hardships caused by modern warfare to innocent civilians. "Nobody involved wants to inflict any unnecessary hardships, and all try to avoid it," he emphasized. "And certainly, it is a fact that we all hope for an honorable peace."

He took the opportunity to express through this newspaper his "deep appreciation to the churches of America for the chaplains they provide. There are chaplains of 50 different denominations, splendid, devoted men of God. The churches can be proud."

The new Grace Chapel, which took one year to build, cost $216,000. The stained glass windows, with the theme of the salvation of man, were obtained through money raised by ships home port.

"In the Armed Forces generally," he added, "there is great spirit of ecumenicity, an understanding of people and religious cultures. More than that, not only understanding, but being sensitive about the other and his feelings."

AS TO whether this has something to say to civilian life:

"It says this: the capability is here among people, and is being expressed and demonstrated — of people getting along. In our military community, we have a society that emphasizes cross-cultural understanding and inter-cultural understanding."

"We aim to teach this to

CONFIDENT LIVING

Words to Change Your Life—Do It!

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Certain combinations of words pack tremendous power. For example, two little everyday words . . . Put them together and you have a vital thought that can change your life. And these two dynamic words? DO IT!

A man said, "I'm not getting anywhere." He was 45 years old. Several times his employers had shifted him from one job to another with no increases in responsibility or pay. Evidently they considered him capable enough to keep on but not good enough to merit promotion.

"What kind of work would you really like to do?" I asked.

"I don't exactly know," he replied uncertainly.

"You mean to tell me you have lived 45 years and don't know what you like to do?"

"It seems funny, doesn't it?" he admitted, "but I really don't. I just want to be getting somewhere."

"Where? Spell it out. Where do you want to go?"

"Come to think of it, I don't really know just where."

I FIGURED here was a typical case of ambitions blurred — desires increasingly confused — by years of aimless wondering and vacillating and too little DOING. "Look," I said, "I can tell you this. First thing you've got to do is get a clear picture in your mind of what you would like to do, exactly what you want to achieve. That is the first step. Then once you have a clear-cut, specific goal, apply the great dynamic principle that you can get what you want. And that, simply stated, is: GET GOING — DO IT!"

Every human being has vital ambitions and aspirations. When you have got out of touch with your creative abilities, the way to draw them back to consciousness is to make contact with the vitality and creativity within you. I persuaded this man to devote half an hour twice a day to deep, searching self-knowledge.

As we talked further it came out that he was from an uneducated family background. "Nobody in our family ever amounted to anything," he said. "I was the first one to go to college. And I only just squeaked through and haven't amounted to much since."

His lack of confidence was overwhelming. That he has always had a low opinion of himself, a self-minimizing attitude, was obvious. Instinctively he had avoided pursuing any definite aim for fear of failure and disappointment, and possibly ridicule it would bring. From time to time he had had some good ideas for improving his job performance, but instead of acting, he had hesitated and ended up deciding he probably would not carry it off successfully so better skip it.

I quoted the theme song from "Man of La Mancha," the hit musical, about dreaming the impossible dream. And suggested that he practice deliberately dreaming the seemingly impossible with the firm idea that it would prove to be possible after all. "Try that as a way to reverse your old defeat psychology," I advised him. He took the advice and by dreaming "impossibles" the man actually developed new hope and new vision. He got clear on what he wanted. His goals fused.

I then started hammering at the theme of DO IT! "Now that you know your objectives," I said, "the big thing is to get going. See what you need to do next and then don't fool around — DO IT! If you feel hesitant, DO IT! And go into action. Whatever you know you ought to do, get at it — DO IT!" By following that simple technique he is already beginning to get the satisfactions and rewards of creative accomplishment.

MANY PEOPLE get caught in the sad and gloomy valley of indecision. Some remain there all their lives. They have dreams, and they believe in them to some extent — but not enough. One part of the personality strains forward toward ideals and enterprise, but another part remains entangled in self-doubt, timidity and inertia. People in this condition are on the horns of a real dilemma. Achievement and happiness pass them by for one basic reason — they simply do not ACT.

Is there something you have wanted to accomplish but never had the guts to try, really try? Do you want some constructive change in your life? Well then, try a new approach to a frustrating situation. Follow your great impulse. Start trying. DO IT! Don't get bogged down in endless deliberations on how best to go about it. DO IT! DO IT NOW! You will open to yourself a door to a wonderful life. DO IT! is the secret. Just DO IT.

United Navy Meet a Success

A unique one-day religious conference sponsored by Destroyer Division 132 was held last week at the Armed Services YMCA, with personnel representing 20 commands and 16 denominations participating. It is reported by Chaplain Robert W. Hodges, DESDIV 132 chaplain. Theme of the day was "Commitment to Freedom."

Separate morning devotional worship was provided for Protestants, Roman Catholics, and Jews. The remainder of the day was characterized by a spirit of ecumenicity with all participants viewing a film, "The Uncommitted," participating in seminars, and enjoying a picnic lunch.

Seminar topics such as: "Am I my brother's keeper?" "Is military service compatible with service to God?" and "The Urban Crisis" enabled conference participants to explore ways in which a committed individual can serve as an influence for good by bringing eternal truths of religion into focus on contemporary problems. Seminar and discussion group leaders were Rabbi Sidney Guthman of Temple Sinai and Navy Chaplains Sigmund Schade, Alton Parker Jr., James Poerschke, Charles Cassely, and Thomas Kuhn — all of the Long Beach area.

A highlight of the conference was an address by Captain Harold F. Menges, Eleventh Naval District Chaplain. His talk entitled "The Closed Mind" vividly contrasted the lethargy and failures of the unimaginative with the positive power for good available to anyone who will face "the impossible" with hope, and conscientiously seek to find solutions through knowledge and practice of divine law.

Chaplain Menges was introduced by Commander Summer Gurney, commanding officer of the U.S.S. Brinkley Bass.

Ships of DESDIV 132 — the U.S.S. Decatur, Brinkley Bass, Harry E. Hubbard and Samuel N. Moore departed Long Beach Thursday to join the Arnold J. Isbell and the DESDIV 132 staff for a deployment in the Western Pacific.

Opera Star Duo in Annual Appearance Here Sunday

Famed opera stars Robert Hale and Dean Wilder, who thrilled Long Beach audiences in 1966 and '67, will make their third annual appearance here Sunday, presenting a concert of their sacred and classical solos and duets 7 p.m. in First Nazarene Church, 2280 Clark Ave.

Hale, a bass-baritone, recipient of the "Singer of the Year" award for 1962 and first place winner of the New England Metropolitan Opera Auditions in '64, is currently singing leading roles with the New York City Opera Co. A review in the Boston Globe said he was "blessed with a virile voice . . . flawless control." Maestro George Schick of the Metropolitan Opera said "Mr. Hale has that extra something that enables a performer to communicate immediately with his audience."

Wilder, leading tenor for three seasons with the Goldovsky Opera Theater, has been requested by the Deutsche Opera Berlin and Zurich Opera to return as guest artist. A typical newspaper reaction, from the Portland (Ore.) Journal: "Wilder unfurled a rich, golden, soaring tenor . . . one of the great voices of the century."

Hale and Wilder have teamed up in concerts across the country, with enthusiastic response to their interpretation of sacred music.

ON SO. BAPTIST MISSION

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin A. Wells, of 1506 Caregena St., have been selected by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board for four years in Zambia, Africa as missionary associates.

The couple, long active in area church work, will leave in the Fall. They will serve initially as dormitory houseparents at the mission.

Wells has been a salesman for Sears, Roebuck, and Company for 24 years. Now employed in the appliance store of the Downey branch, he formerly worked in other branches in the Los Angeles area and in Tulsa, Okla. Mrs. Wells is a surgical technician at Gardena Community Hospital.

"Through my long experience with Sears, it is possible for me to take an early retirement," Wells told the Foreign Mission Board. "I plan to continue to serve my Lord and Master in whatever capacity he sees fit to direct me. I believe he is leading me into missions."

Mr. and Mrs. Wells have three children, all in church related work. Their daughter Marilyn is the wife of Rev. Henry T. Blackaby, pastor of First Southern Baptist Church, Downey, where Mr. and Mrs. Wells are members. Jo Ann and her husband, Rev. John D. Hopper, former pastor of Signal Hill Baptist Church, are Southern Baptist career missionaries, serving at the Baptist Theological Seminary in Ruschlikon, Switzerland. Melvin, Jr., is music and educational director for a church in Riverside.

Now Sunday School superintendent for First Church, Downey, Wells has a long record of church service. Ordained a deacon at Immanuel Baptist Church, Tulsa, he was the first dea-

Protestant History

A HISTORY OF PROTESTANTISM. Volume I: The Reformation. By Emile G. Leonard. Edited by H. H. Rowley. Translated from the French by Joyce M. H. Reid. Bobbs-Merrill, $12.50.

"In a forest fire," writes Emile Leonard, "the match, or the fragment of glass, which set light to the first twigs is a trifle compared with the dryness of the pines, oozing with resin under a scorching sun." The question of the Reformation's national or geographical origins; and of the direction in which it spread, are similar, to M. Leonard, meaningless. It is true that Martin Luther appeared in Germany, but "three years after the Theses there were 'Lutherans' all over Europe. When a problem of vital importance concerns a whole world, and it adopts, from the first and everywhere at once, the solution found in a particular place, this place itself is of little account."

Again, says M. Leonard, until his recent death one of France's leading historians and theologians, one confines the Reformation wrongly to the 16th century by looking upon it merely, as "the outcome of a tragic misunderstanding, of the temporary failure of the Catholic Church and the culpable haste of the Reformers." The Reformation, he writes, continues even into our 20th century, even though "the spiritual contingencies are quite different."

M. Leonard examines the various explanations given for the Reformation, and finds them wanting. The Protestants long held that the Reformation was a reaction against priestly licentiousness and Papal debaucheries, and the Catholics too adopted the moral explanation, M. Leonard says. Both Catholics and Protestants also account for the Reformation's spread with a political explanation: covetous princes and the nobility thirsted to despoil the Church.

Then there is the agnostic school, claiming the material needs and aspirations of the various classes as vital causes of the Reformation. Marx, he points out, regarded the Reformation as "the child of the new form of economy which arose at this time, imposed itself upon the world and rapidly conquered it — the capitalist economy."

In all these explanations M. Leonard sees a "specious and tendentious element." The Reformation, he says, "appeared at one and the same time among both rich and poor, both in the towns and in the countryside," thus knocking the

This, the first volume of M. Leonard's monumental study, deals with the emergence and spread of Lutheranism; its limitation by the Humanist and "Spiritual" Reformations; its temporary arrest; the Imperial and Papal counterattack (the War of the Interims, the Inquisition, the Jesuits and the Council of Trent); the Reformation's resumption, with Calvin as the founder of a civilization.

Dr. Hangen's Escape, Four Kinds of Members

There must be a few residents of Uppsala, Sweden ready to switch to the United Church of Christ after the miraculous escape from death of Dr. Emerson Hangen, recently retired pastor of Long Beach First Congregational Church.

Dr. Hangen, who is in Europe for a year with Mrs. Hangen, was driving (alone) to a session of the World Council of Churches in Uppsala in his newly purchased Volkswagen when he was in a collision with a boulder filled truck. As if this unequal contest was not enough, a huge boulder fell off the truck onto the VW, demolishing it completely.

Dr. Hangen was hospitalized but apparently not seriously injured and is now out of the hospital, his many Long Beach friends will be happy to hear.

Maybe there's something after all to that old boyhood expression: "You must be living right!"

WHAT WOULD you say for the betterment of humanity in 30 to 60 seconds of prime time on television? Rev. Emory Tang, a Los Angeles Franciscan priest, and associate producer of just such "spots," is a believer in the gentle sell. The spots he helps produce are used by some 250 stations in 45 states. Though produced by the Hour of St. Francis Productions, a Roman Catholic setup, the commercials are nonsectarian enough so that United Presbyterians are helping promote them in five cities.

The themes are simple and universal.

For Mother's Day, one told of Mom's insight, something that comes not from schooling but from real-life living and learning. It shows her finding comfort in the simplicity of children, and it ends with this description of her: "A woman whom we don't know how to value while she lives."

Or this one, about parents who fight: "The warring shouts of the parents bewilder their awakened children and probably leave deep, lasting scars."

The father fibbing about his son's age to get him into the movie at a cheaper price — Says the boy: "Gee, dad, you're smart. I wish I could cheat as well as you."

And one on drivers, which winds up: "Why are some people saints on the sidewalk but devils behind the wheel?"

REFORM JEWS emerged from a recent conference with Israeli leaders in Jerusalem with some hope that their less orthodox branch of Judaism may finally receive full religious rights in Israel. More than 500 Reform Jewish leaders from 24 countries, including the United States have urged the government to take the necessary steps.

BACK TO the World Council and this quote from the always-blunt Dr. Michael Ramsey, Archbishop of Canterbury, retiring this year as one of the organization's six presidents. Asked about the Council and Christian unity, he said: "The real question is whether the younger ecumenical leaders will look upon the World Council as the best way of attaining Christian unity. Will they feel they can do more good at a desk in WCC headquarters, or by working through their own church?"

The historic council, largest meeting of religious leaders in history, ended Friday. We won't attempt any long-distance "analysis" but will work on getting some first hand objective reports.

THERE ARE four types of members that can be found in the church today, and all must be welcomed and cherished and permitted to find their role without being considered a "good" member or a "poor" member.

This was one of the points made in a report to the recent Southland Methodist convention at Redlands by Rev. Dr. Richard W. Cain, then the superintendent of the denomination's Los Angeles District.

Its four categories:

1. The nuclear member — who "accepts organization norms as his behavior guide . . . and gets a high degree of satisfaction from his involvement."
2. The task member — who "accepts those norms related to the tasks and thinks in job terms, not in terms of relationship with members . . . they are the work horses."
3. The social member — who joins the church "because of satisfaction or interaction with other members. They love a good dinner. Primarily interested in activities that cause interaction."
4. Supporting members — "who accept goals but want no significant part in task or purposes. They find social value in membership. It may be good business to be a member. Membership may be a spiritual hedge against judgment."

Dr. Cain explained that "in the church constant opportunity must be made to specify one or more of the types of membership — but we must let each decide as he will."

IN A potentially more controversial section of the same report, Dr. Cain, without mentioning the phenomenon by name, alluded to the question of speaking in tongues, once pretty much confined to pentecostal Protestants, but recently more in evidence among the major denominations, and Roman Catholics as well.

The church should not deny permission to any form of worship that can be a channel of communication between man and God, he said. "Much remains to be discovered as we become a fully worshipping church," Dr. Cain stated, "and for this reason much experimentation must be done."

"There must be in every congregation," he added, "a variety of modes, experiences of worship and the full acceptance of other means to approach and receive from God. Good taste, history and common sense need to guide worship experimentation but must not exclude automatically."

The practice of speaking in tongues (glossolalia), referred to several times in the Bible, is not exactly widespread outside of the Pentecostal ranks, but has sections of adherents within most Christian bodies. Rev. Larry Christiansen, a Lutheran pastor in San Pedro, is a leading exponent of the practice. Confronted by the question arising in a handful of churches, the United Presbyterian convention this year ordered a year's study of the question.

Church Leaders Hit Interruption by MPs

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Five Bay area church leaders have denounced military police for interrupting a communion service to arrest nine AVOL GIs in Marin City Wednesday.

The clergymen issued a statement indicating a pastor of St. Andrew Presbyterian Church had told military police they would not be obstructed in carrying out their duties but he hoped the arrests would not be made during the service.

ROUGHER THAN ROUGH

Beard, Marty Survive PGA's 'Death Valley'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Steady Frank Beard and scrambling Marty Fleckman survived the charge of a half dozen challengers and the treacherous "death valley" 18th hole Friday for a one-stroke 36-hole PGA championship lead with two-under-par 138s.

It was a day in which only four players cracked par and one that saw co-favored Jack Nicklaus miss the cut in a major tournament for only the third time in his career when he shot a 39-40-79 and a 150.

The 24-year-old Fleckman blew a two-stroke lead with a double bogey on the "ridiculous" final hole and took a 35-37-72 to go with his opening 66. Beard spoiled a splendid back nine with a bogey there for a 37-33-70 as the 7,096-yard, par 35-35-70 Pecan Valley Country Club layout continued to defy all but a handful of players.

In a way, it was rather inconsequential, but if Nicklaus hadn't bogeyed the hole, he would have made the cut.

Flat-swinging Doug Sanders was the only player to hold a sustained mastery of the course on another 93-

He burned up the back nine with putts of 14 feet at the 10th, 2 feet on the 13th, 8 feet on No. 15 and 6 feet on No. 18.

Sanders criticized the pin placements, saying he had to one-putt four holes for pars in addition to his birdies.

Among the unfortunate ones was No. 2 money-winner Tom Weiskopf, who faded from bad to worse, after a 77 opening round he shot a 44-38-82 for a 159.

10th Place Closing In on Dodgers

By GEORGE LEDERER
Staff Writer

"This is not an eight-place ball club," said Leo Durocher when he took over the eighth-place Cubs in 1966. The Lip was right, although he was to regret his statement because the Cubs finished 10th.

Now Leo says the Dodgers are not a ninth-place ball club. Again, he may be right because they are only two games out of 10th place and sinking.

"I don't understand it," Durocher said after watching one of the Dodgers' sloppiest performances, a three-error, 6-2 loss to the Cubs Friday night.

"I thought the Dodgers would have a first-division club when I saw their three pitchers (Drysdale, Singer and Osteen) in the spring. I thought so because Haller gave them extra punch. Versalles had a great spring and Lefebvre and Parker are solid players. I don't know what's happened to them."

Walter Alston doesn't know either. Asked if the Dodgers have begun to think negatively, he said, "If I could read their minds, I'd straighten them out."

Alston felt sorry for loser Claude Osteen, who wasn't up to par physically, but came up with bogies only because of his teammates' boo-boos.

"If Osteen didn't feel well before the game, he should really have been sick when he came out," said Alston. "The way we played was a disgrace."

Willie Davis' leadoff home run was the Dodgers' only hit against winner Fergie Jenkins until Lefebvre singled with one out in the seventh. The Dodgers left the bases full in that inning and again in the eighth as Jenkins (10-10) recorded his first career victory at Dodger Stadium after three losses.

Jenkins took the league knockout lead from Bill Singer by fanning 12 Dodgers, getting pinch-hitter Jim Fairley and Parker with the bases full. He has struck out 151 in 180 innings to 140 for Singer in 152 innings.

Lefebvre's single, an error by Glenn Beckert and a walk to Parker filled the bases with one out in the seventh. Another walk to pinch-hitter Ken Boyer cut Jenkins' lead to 6-2 and brought Durocher from the dugout.

"You're pitching too fast," Durocher told him. "You're just playing catch out there. Take your time and think about what you're doing."

Jenkins fanned Fairley and got Davis on an inning-ending grounder.

Durocher revisited Jenkins after singles by Paul Popovich and Tom Haller and a walk to Ron Fairly filled the bases with two out in the eighth. Parker was the hitter and Durocher told Jenkins, "You gotta get this man. Think about him." Parker struck out.

Osteen allowed seven of the Cubs' eight hits, all singles, in his 4-1-3 innings, but three runs were unearned on errors by Lefebvre, Popovich and his own.

The loss was the fourth in a row for Osteen and No. 14 of the year, tops in the league. Osteen lost 17 times last year to share the club record with Don Drysdale, a 17-game loser in 1963.

The Cubs made it six wins in their last seven games by scoring twice in each of the third, fourth and fifth innings.

Ex-Dodger Jim Hickman singled to open the third and Jose Arcia pushed a degree day and his bristling 36-31-67 boomed him into third spot at one-under-par 139.

Big George Archer, who wrested the lead away from Fleckman for one brief hole—the eighth where he jolted in his fourth birdie of the round at that point, later blew it when he got heat dizziness and four-putted the 15th hole from 30 feet to wind up with a 32-37-69 and even par 140.

He was joined by U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, who had a 36-35-71 by again bogeying the final hole, Johnny Pott, Miller Barber, and resurgent Arnie Palmer, who almost pulled off one of his back nine charges with four birdies in one stretch of five middle holes.

But Palmer ran afoul of the 458-yard dog-legged 18th with Salado Creek slashing across the fairway at a sharp angle. He bogeyed the hole and his 36-33-69 left him at even par.

Pott and Barber at one time pulled into temporary ties with the leaders, but the finishing holes caught up with them, too. Pott double bogeyed the 17th when his drive was in the trees and he faded to a 35-35-70, while Barber bogeyed the 12th and 16th to finish with a 34-36-70.

Don Bies, Dan Sikes and Julius Boros were bracketed at two-over-par 142 and the stage was set for a spirited battle down the stretch today and Sunday.

The final two rounds will be televised (ABC) from 3-4:30 (PDT) today and 2-4 p.m. Sunday.

Co-favorite Billy Casper had a fine 34-36-70 to go with an opening 74, but it could have been better except for that treacherous 18th where he took a double bogey.

"It really shook me up," he said. "The way that hole is playing it's just ridiculous." His 2-iron off the tee trickled into the creek.

Fleckman bogeyed the third when the drive hung on the edge of the creek in the rough, the seventh and 15th when he missed the greens, but he balanced each one with birdies of 5, 12 and 4 feet.

"I played just about the same as yesterday," he said, "but I didn't play the par 3s as well as a result of bad iron shots, I think."

His double bogey at 18 came when he bounced from rough to rough with his first two shots and then three-putted.

Beard recovered from back-to-back three-putt bogeys on the fourth and fifth holes for three back-side birdies. He chipped in from 30 feet on No. 11 and sank 6 and 25-footers on Nos. 13 and 14.

Sanders, shooting his lowest round since a 63 in the Greensboro Open, bogeyed two holes from a bunker and a three-putt green, both on the front side after he had birdied No. 1 with a 12-footer.

Brunet Runs Zero String to 21 Innings

By FRED CLAIRE
Staff Writer

CHICAGO — George Brunet and Roger Repoz formed a groovy twosome for the Angels Friday night.

"I think I've got my swing back in the groove," said Repoz after he had hit his 10th homer, and first since May 14.

Repoz' two-run homer and Brunet's second successive shutout provided the Angels with a 2-0 win over the Chicago White Sox.

Brunet hasn't been out of the groove in his last four starts, three of which have been five-hit shutout wins.

ANGEL OF DAY

GEORGE BRUNET pitched his second successive shutout and third in his last four starts by beating the White Sox, 2-0.

has a streak of 21 consecutive scoreless innings and has yielded only one earned run and 21 hits in his last 34 innings of work. He has lowered his earned run average to 2.45.

After Brunet posted his 10th win against 9 losses he told of his ambition, "I'd sure like to win 20 or even 18 games this season."

"I've never won more than 14 games. I had 14 for Little Rock when I was called up to Kansas City in 1957. I might have won 20 if I had stayed with Little Rock that year."

"I've pitched well enough for this club to win 18. Look at my earned run average (.331) last year when I was 11-19."

There is no doubt the 33-year-old left-hander has established himself as the ace of the Angel staff. He has five of the Halos' seven shutout wins and the other two came with relief help.

Brunet had a special pleasure beating the White Sox for the second time this year. He had been 1-9 against Chicago going into this season.

Repoz' last homer had come at Comiskey Park more than two months ago. At the time he was leading the American League in homers.

"I've just been doing some bad things at the plate," said Roger. "I think I'm straightened out now. For one thing, my stance was too close. I think the secret is to recognize what you're doing wrong right away. I just have gone too long without being able to work out my problem."

Repoz' homer came off Chisox starter Bob Priddy with no outs in the sixth. Jim Fregosi had reached first on an error by second baseman Santos Alomar to open the inning.

The win moved the Angels from eighth place into a tie for sixth with Minnesota. It was only the second loss for the White Sox in seven games since Al Lopez replaced Eddie Stanky as manager.

Angel manager Bill Rigney gave the writers their biggest shock of the evening.

"I've called a press conference for tomorrow at noon," he said in greeting the writers after the game. "I want to get this thing cleared up."

S.F. HASN'T TALKED TO ME---RIG

CHICAGO — The Giants might be thinking of Bill Rigney as their next manager. But they haven't talked to him about it.

"No one has talked to me about the Giant job," Rigney said Friday after he read the story — quoting a "responsible source" — that he planned to quit as the Angel manager and return to San Francisco after this season.

"I talked to Chub Feeney (Giant general manager) when I was home at the All-Star break, but our discussion concerned a player, a pitcher, who they were thinking of letting go. And that's all we talked about."

It has been mentioned Rigney and his wife recently purchased a new home in the Bay Area. "We've lived up there for 20 years," said Bill.

Rigney said he had read reports Herman Franks planned to resign as the Giant manager after this season.

"Somebody is just trying to put two and two together and came up with four," said Rigney.

Bill, that figures.

HOLLYPARK GOLD, GLORY DRAW 14

By HANK HOLLINGWORTH
Staff Writer

The richest race in Hollywood Park history will be run this afternoon as 14 two-year-olds scramble for the $100,000-added Hollywood Juvenile Championship. If all 14 youngsters start, the purse will be in excess of $175,000, a mighty margin over Hollypark's current most wealthy chase — last year's $165,050 Juvenile event.

Three supplementary nominees, all entered this week for $7,500, sweetened the already established rich purse.

Probable favorite will be a Nashua colt, Good Manners, who was on the supplementary list because somebody goofed on his bookkeeping. Trainer Bob Wheeler, the most successful of all Juvenile conditioners (he has saddled four), was astonished that Good Manners was not eligible for the race after a sensational win June 25.

Somewhere along the way, the $100 second payment due May 10 never was made. Thus, for lack of $100, the C. V. Whitney stable had to cough up the supplementary $7,500. Good Manners should still be a good investment even at the price. He has two consecutive outstanding wins at Hollypark, including one race in which he equalled the second fastest five and one-half furlongs in Hollypark history.

Strongest threats to Good Manners would appear to be Bold Thrust and Mr. Joe F. Bold Thrust has two good things going. He has earned more money ($41,950) than anyone else and he had Don Pierce in the irons. Pierce not only won last week's Gold Cup, but has three S'Anita Handicap victories to his credit.

The other supplementals, Fred Hooper's Greek Static and Target Day, would appear formidable opponents to Good Manners. Trainer Cotton Tinsley supplemented the pair when he couldn't decide which was the better colt.

Owner Hooper asked trainer Tinsley which colt he'd prefer entering in the classic. When Tinsley said he was undecided, Hooper said "Put them both in."

In a workout this week, both colts broke together and worked virtually as a team, Greek Static "winning" by a nose. That teamwork could pay off in handsome figures shortly after 5-p.m. today.

SOME GOLFERS in PGA championships are complaining about the rough, but not Marty Fleckman. He thinks the lake is rougher than the rough. Fleckman swung with one foot in water (top), removed soggy sock (center), tried to wring water back into lake (bottom). Bogie-cost Fleckman undisputed lead.

Wilt Extends Elg's Career

New York Times Service

NEW YORK—Nobody is happier than Wilt Chamberlain was traded to the Lakers than Robert Kerlan, M.D.

Robert Kerlan, M.D., is assistant professor of clinical surgery at the University of Southern California, and is a celebrated orthopedic specialist. He is the team physician for the Dodgers, Kings, Lakers, Angels and the new San Diego baseball club in the National League.

He has treated Sandy Koufax's elbow, Maury Wills' knee, Willie Shoemaker's femur, Elston Howard's arm, Chi Chi Rodriguez's thumb, Jim Palmer's back, Walter Blum's vertebrae, Johnny Podres's joints, Al Kaline's foot, Johnny Callison's leg, Robin Roberts' neck, Tommy Davis' ankle — and Elgin Baylor's knee.

And that's why nobody is happier than Dr. Kerlan that Chamberlain was traded from Philadelphia to the Lakers. With Wilt under the boards, Kerlan observed, laying aside an X-ray picture of Shoemaker's right thigh, Baylor "will have it made."

"Elgin's always gone to the boards," he said. "And for a man who has a knee problem, that can be tough. But now with Wilt — goodness gracious, he must have the highest rebounding average in basketball history — a lot of pressure will come off Baylor. Why, this may prolong Baylor's career two or three years."

Kerlan is proud of Baylor's knee because it presented an unusual challenge to a man who had started life in Aitkin, Minn., as the son of a country doctor and who now has an all-America practice of his own.

"Baylor broke off the top eighth of his knee cap," he recalled, "and I had an interesting decision to make. I removed the top eighth of the cap, reattached the tendons, and then hoped the proper tension would return. I'm a basketball fan and I see all 41 of the Lakers' home games every season, and I observe that Elgin's doing fine."

Willie Shoemaker became another intriguing patient last Jan. 23 at Santa Anita. At 36, he already was the world's leading money winner on horses — his mounts had won $40 million. But that day there

Lakewood, L.B. Swimmers Star

Karen Muir, a 15-year-old from South Africa, almost reached the listed world record in the 100-meter backstroke Friday on opening day of the 10th Los Angeles Invitational Swimming Championships.

The 115-pound youngster swam the distance in 1:07.3. The listed mark of 1:07.1 was set by Elaine Tanner of Canada last year.

Miss Muir has pending marks of 1:06.7 and 1:06.4 this year, the best ever by a distaff swimmer. She is recognized as the world's greatest woman backstroke artist, but her country had been excluded from the Olympic Games.

Susie Atwood of Lakewood was second in 1:10.4. Ann Simmons of the Lakewood Aquatic Club won the women's 400 freestyle in 4:38.6, followed by Patty Carretto of Phillips 66 of Long Beach.

Greg Charlton of Phillips won the men's 400 freestyle in 4:11.4. Phillips also won the men's and women's 800-meter relays.

John Ferris of the Arden Hills Swim Club, Sacramento, won the 200-meter butterfly in 2:06.9 for a meet record.

Toni Hewitt of the Corona Del Mar Swim Club captured the women's 200-meter butterfly in 2:33.7.

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Marilyn Smith equalled the best 18-hole round of her career, a six-under-par 66, Friday to grab the first round lead in the $18,500 Ladies Buckeye Invitational.

Miss Smith put together six birdies and twelve pars in forging a three-stroke advantage over runner-up Betsy Rawls.

Miss Smith, the eighth leading money winner of this year's LPGA tour, credited a return to a conventional putting grip for her sizzling round.

'Speedy' 135 Pounds for Hollypark Dr. Fager Today

Victory

Defending sprint champion Kissin' George was deprived of a second consecutive Lakes and Flowers handicap victory Friday at Hollywood Park but it took a track-record performance

Dr. Fager and Damascus will meet for the fourth time and three jockeys will try for a helicopter double in a pair of $100,000 races on today's busy racing pro-

Braulio Baeza, who will ride Dr. Fager; Manny Ycaza, Damascus' jockey, and John Rotz, who will be up on Out of the Way, will leave by helicopter for Monmouth Park immedi-

The culprit was Speedy King who made every pole a winning one in the $21,700 speed battle as he held on to edge Kissin' George by a neck in 1:08 1-5.

The clocking equalled the track standard set eight years ago by Fleet Nasrullah.

Speedy King earned $12,700 for his wire-to-wire effort and returned $13.60, $4.80 and $3 to his supporters in the crowd of 27,917.

Kissin' George, who had cap at Aqueduct.

Dr. Fager will try to match Exterminator's feat of 1922 by winning the Brooklyn with 135 pounds. He will be giving away five pounds to Damascus, 130, who is coupled with the front-running speedster, Heaveav 112 as an entry.

wood Lassie winner, and Rotz will be up on Gallardo Bloom.

Process Shot, another unbeaten filly with two stakes wins, will be ridden by Chuck Baltazar, who will do no commuting.

Process Shot is the 2-

been beaten but once in 12 prior starts at the six furlong route, carried 127 pounds as he went postward as the 13-10 choice.

Speedy King broke extremely well, getting a quick bulge over Kissin' George and Broad Shadow. Don Brierce rushed up ows. Don Pierce rushed up with the latter, who beat Speedy King in a recent overnight clash, but he was never able to pull up on even terms as John Sellers urged the winner home.

Fichtner, Wooten Cut as Browns Seek Peace

Combined News Services
The Cleveland Browns Friday asked waivers on defensive back Ross Fichtner and guard John Wooten, two players who figured in a racial squabble a few weeks ago.

If no other club picks up the waivers by Monday, the Browns will have 24 hours in which to either recall the pair or release them as free agents.

Wooten made headlines when he accused Fichtner of being prejudiced against Negroes on the team. Triggering the charge was a golf tournament which Fichtner organized. No Negro players were invited to this year's outing, although they attended previous affairs.

Insiders claimed the Browns had tried to trade Wooten and Fichtner, but couldn't interest anyone.

Fichtner has been in the NFL for eight years. He played college ball at Purdue where he was a quarterback.

Wooten has played pro ball for nine years and was the Browns sixth draft choice in 1959 after earning all-America mention at Colorado.

Coach Charley Winner said the St. Louis Cardinals have formed a player committee to help solve player problems and prevent a recurrence of last year's dissension.

Racial problems were blamed in part for the Big Red's faltering finish last season.

The committee is made up of John Roland, representing offensive backs, Ernie McMillon, offensive linemen; Jackie Smith pass receivers; Chuck Walker, defensive line; Larry Wilson, secondary, and a line-backer representative to be named when the position shapes up.

Winner said the committee was not formed simply to prevent racial friction.

"Our objective is not so much Black and White harmony as it is to provide a way to let any player express his feelings and feel more a part of the organization," Winner said.

The coach said players might have problems or ideas they would be hesitant to express to coaches or management, but they might channel them through the committee.

"I've had many talks with white and blacks, finding out their feelings, and I think the whole thing we are trying to express is that we are here with one common objective — to win," the coach said.

Richie Petitbon, defensive safety for the Chicago Bears and a New Orleans businessman, denied that he was retiring from pro football.

However, he indicated he would quit if he could not play for the New Orleans Saints.

Petitbon said, "I have made no secret that I wanted to play for the Saints. Mr. Halas wouldn't trade me. We have reached a stalemate."

San Diego signed veteran kicker Paige Cothren to an AFL contract. Cothren, drafted by Mississippi in 1956 by the Rams, impressed coach Sid Gillman by kicking eight successive field goals from the 40-yard line in practice.

The Chargers also moved Chuck Allen back to his old spot at middle linebacker and switched Rick Redman to outside backer.

Halfback Mike Kellogg, picked up during the expansion draft from Denver, was cut by Cincinnati along with defensive back Hal Rooney. Kellogg joins from Long Beach.

The passing game, which was notable by its absence from the Detroit attack last season, came in for special work Friday. Bill Munson, acquired from the Rams during off-season, rookie Greg Barton of Long Beach and Tim Jones, who spent last season as a member of the Lions' taxi squad, took turns throwing in the double drills.

Denver cut linebacker Lou Andrus of BYU and defensive back Tom Cassese of C. W. Post.

with a speed of 87.421 miles an hour.

Less than two-tenths of a second separated the first eight cars as all broke Richard Petty's Volunteer 500 qualifying record of 86.861 mph.

Bunky Blackburn of Daytona Beach, won the pole position for today's Bristol 300 race for grand touring sports cars with a speed of 85.714 mph.

Eighteen cars won positions for Sunday's race.

Charlie Glotzbach of Georgetown, Ind., was second with 87.336; rookie Swede Savage of Los Angeles third at 87.293 and Cale Yarborough of Timmonsville, S.C., fourth at 87.124.

Graham Hill of Britain, driving a Lotus Ford, flashed around the Brands Hatch track of 2.65 miles in 1 minute, 28.9 seconds and easily won the pole position in today's British Grand Prix race.

His average speed was almost 107 miles an hour. The official record is 104.15 mph, but it can be broken only in an official race. In the trials Thursday and Friday, 13 of the 19 drivers either bettered or equalled the listed mark.

Jackie Oliver, also of Great Britain, had the second fastest qualifying with 1:29.4. He also drove a Lotus Ford. Third fastest was Chris Amos of New Zealand in a Ferrari.

Dan Gurney of Riverside was seventh in an Eagle with a time of 1:30.

Third-seeded Texan Cliff Richey and three other members of the U.S. Davis Cup team advanced to the semifinals of the National Clay Courts tennis tournament in men's singles play Friday.

Spain Leading Italy in Davis Cup Round

Defending women's singles champion, Nancy Richey of San Angelo, advanced to the semifinals in her bid for a sixth successive title. But second-seeded Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., was upset by Linda Tuero, Metairie, La., the No. 8 seed.

Miss Richey beat seventh-seeded Tony Fretz, Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-1. Miss Tuero won 6-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Kathy Harter, Seal

Will Sunday Be Last Time Turbos Run at Indy Track?

Combined News Services
The Indy "200" Sunday may be the last time turbo-cars run at Indianapolis, says Andy Granatelli, whose turbines have been the center of a long-running feud with the United States Auto Club.

Granatelli said that proposed USAC rules changes could keep turbines from the 1969 big car circuit. But he said his 1969 racing plans wouldn't be decided until USAC announced its decision on the changes Monday.

Indianapolis "500" champ Bobby Unser will head the field in Sunday's race over the 1.94 mile course. Also in the field will be Al Unser, A. J. Foyt, Mario Andretti, Roger McCluskey, Joe Leonard and Art Pollard.

Andretti will be after a fourth consecutive "200" crown.

Eight grand national drivers broke the Volunteer 500 qualifying record Friday with Leroy Yarborough of Columbia, S.C., winning the pole position for Sunday's race at Bristol, Tenn.,

with a speed of 87.421 miles an hour.

Less than two-tenths of a second separated the first eight cars as all broke Richard Petty's Volunteer 500 qualifying record of 86.861 mph.

Bunky Blackburn of Daytona Beach, won the pole position for today's Bristol 300 race for grand touring sports cars with a speed of 85.714 mph.

'Under Milkwood' at CSLB

By RALPH HINMAN JR.
Drama Critic

Poet Dylan and Thomas' brilliant lyric style gets, in California State College at Long Beach's summer repertory staging of his seldom fully staged "Under Milkwood," the fine, full-bodied treatment it deserves.

Set in a mythical village in Thomas's beloved Wales, this "play for voices" offers a series of camellike insights into the lives of human beings — both living and dead.

Twelve actors move about stage, gesture, speak the lines for 53 residents of Llareggub. There is no plotline, as we understand that term; only the imagery of beautiful writing translated into meaningful reality onstage.

Someone has rather aptly described "Milkwood" as a combination of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" and "Spoon River Anthology" with a British accent. This definition holds up well in light of the CSLB staging.

There is the story-telling technique of the anthology: "Captain Cat" reliving seafaring days; Rev. Eli Jenkins and his wry observations; the martyred Mrs. Morgan Morgan whose husband beats out Bach; and 49 others.

"Our Town" technique is seen in a total lack of props, mimicry and pantomime, a dual narrator, the stage presence of the town's recent dead.

"Milkwood" was written as a BBC-commissioned radio play and as such, more than most vehicles, offers lines which must be heard and savored individually. The cast generally does an excellent job, occasionally failing to project fully.

The David MacArthur-directed group comprises Ken Anderson, Laurence R. Kulp, Judy Lynn Petersen, Diana Sullivan, Michael Cooley, Glenna Renee Long, Lorie Ponzuric, Gordon White, Diane Dumas, Rick Martin, Cindy Lee Smith and Adele Wilder.

Final performance is tonight at 8:30 in the campus Little Theatre.

Without his baton, in fact without benefit of a score, Barenboim conducted Achaenbergs' "Verklarte Nacht" and Beethoven's Seventh Symphony Thursday night in the Bowl.

The youngest of these is Daniel Barenboim, 26, a pianist of considerable musical attainments, not the least of which is his mastery of the complete cycle of Beethoven's 32 sonatas, which he performed in London last season.

There could be no complaint at all about Barenboim's choice of soloist, for she is the spectacularly gifted British cellist who also happens to be the pianist's bride of 13 months, Jacqueline De Pre.

Even with the Bowl's normal disadvantages of damp air, necessary microphoning and extramusical sounds (e.g., passing triumphed nevertheless, making a new and exciting experience out of that oldest chestnut in the cello cupboard, the Saint-Saens Concerto.

What one can say for sure is that, where "Transfigured Night" and the Seventh Symphony are concerned, dramatic gestures and competent run-through are less than minimal requirements in an international showplace like Hollywood Bowl. If a conductor cannot offer fresh insights or authoritatively reconsidered interpretations of these standard pieces, he ought to be conducting a more novel repertoire or else performing in a less exposed arena.

THURSDAY, with very little help or, one must say, obstruction, from the debutant conductor, the Philharmonic played an uneventful and clean-lined Seventh. "Verklarte Nacht" produced a few moments when we thought a Gypsy camp had taken over Cahuenga Pass, but at least its contrasts were projected intact.

Barenboim Conducts in Bowl

By DANIEL CARIAGA
Music Critic

Four of the 10 guest conductors leading the Los Angeles Philharmonic this summer in Hollywood Bowl are 40 or under, which must denote something, I am not sure what.

The youngest of these is Daniel Barenboim, 26, a pianist of considerable musical attainments, not the least of which is his mastery of the complete cycle of Beethoven's 32 sonatas, which he performed in London last season.

Without his baton, in fact without benefit of a score, Barenboim conducted Achaenbergs' "Verklarte Nacht" and Beethoven's Seventh Symphony Thursday night in the Bowl.

There could be no complaint at all about Barenboim's choice of soloist, for she is the spectacularly gifted British cellist who also happens to be the pianist's bride of 13 months, Jacqueline De Pre.

Even with the Bowl's normal disadvantages of damp air, necessary microphoning and extramusical sounds (e.g., passing triumphed nevertheless, making a new and exciting experience out of that oldest chestnut in the cello cupboard, the Saint-Saens Concerto.

What one can say for sure is that, where "Transfigured Night" and the Seventh Symphony are concerned, dramatic gestures and competent run-through are less than minimal requirements in an international showplace like Hollywood Bowl. If a conductor cannot offer fresh insights or authoritatively reconsidered interpretations of these standard pieces, he ought to be conducting a more novel repertoire or else performing in a less exposed arena.

THURSDAY, with very little help or, one must say, obstruction, from the debutant conductor, the Philharmonic played an uneventful and clean-lined Seventh. "Verklarte Nacht" produced a few moments when we thought a Gypsy camp had taken over Cahuenga Pass, but at least its contrasts were projected intact.
